About Bank Stocks
Bank of Italy

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Dec. 14—This is written in the office of R. A. Fernald, editor and publisher of the Santa Barbara Morning Press, on the 90-mile return trip from San Simeon to Hodge, via Los Angeles. On such a trip, the Cadillac burns about 18 worth of gasoline, covering 800 miles with seven passengers. It is almost cheaper to travel by motor in California than to stay home.

AND motoring you see many interesting things, including several unexpected, coming down the "Cuesta Encantada," a hill on which stands the Hearst Ranch house. He has fenced in against wolves and coyotes about 1,000 acres, and experiments in acclimating animals not native here. You see a herd of 50 bison in one pasture, with a warning not to get out of your car in that section of the ranch.

Nearby a small colony of tapirs tries to think they are in South America. A dozen kinds of deer, including elk and white deer from Japan live with the bisons. Cassawaries and ostriches, the two biggest living birds, graze much at home and a large herd of zebras blocks the road near them.

In his menagerie, near his ranch house, Hearst has a collection of lions, tigers, wolves, bears, leopards, coyotes, cheetahs, eagles, and dozens of other creatures, interesting to study at a distance. Hearst's father kept race horses, which Hearst does not, but he makes up for it.

HERE at Santa Barbara they once had a little earthquake, not much harm done, although eastern newspapers made what they could of it, as usual. If the quake left any signs they are all gone, and the city buildings are now constructed on a plan that makes them as safe in an earthquake as a market basket would be.

There won't be another earthquake—they've had their little ones. If there were another it would hurt no one.

BUSINESS men in this region are disturbed by a suggestion concerning bank stocks, backed by Mr. Mitchell, of the National City, and A. P. Giannini, of the Bank of Italy, the two biggest banks in America.

BOTH would take their bank stocks off the Stock Exchange, to discourage speculation, unbecoming in stocks of that character. Why not follow the British plan and forbid, under heavy penalty, any short selling of bank stocks, while encouraging bona fide investment in such stocks?

WHEN Harry L. Horton, then oldest member of New York's Exchange, was in his London office, he was much impressed by the rule against selling any bank stock short. If you had it, you could sell it. But no speculative selling, only bona fide buying, no selling what you did not own.

HOW would that appeal to Messrs. Giannini and Mitchell? There is no good reason why those that choose should not buy bank stocks, of which many will yield gigantic profits.

IN every city along this California coast, 165 altogther, there are branches of the great Bank of Italy. Each bank, even in the smaller towns, has back of it all the resources of the big bank and can finance fully any local enterprise, no matter what the amount needed.

Forty per cent of the bank's profits go to employes, and that bank gets service. The heads and employes of banks purchased and included in the Giannini banking organization, invariably find themselves better off than before. Citizens see the institution, deal with it, and want to invest in it.

UNDER the new law, permitting branches, Mr. Mitchell's great New York bank will doubtless spread out, to serve scores of business communities, as Mr. Giannini's bank has done already. Let the people invest in sound bank stocks, but don't let stock jugglers gamble in them. Tens of thousands in this state have their earnings in Bank of Italy stock and should have a consent market, if they want it.

FAMOUS FLIER REACHES GOAL; IS HOURS LATE

American Hero Writes More Aviation History in Long Flight

LANDED AT 3:39 P. M.

Anxiety Caused as Aviator Failed To Arrive on Scheduled Time

BULLETIN

Valbuena Aerodrome, Mexico City, Dec. 14—Colonel Lindbergh was sighted over Mexico City at 3:35 o'clock, Eastern standard time, this afternoon. He landed at 3:39 o'clock.

Colonel Lindbergh's plane was positively identified as it passed over the city.

New York, Dec. 14—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's failure to arrive in Mexico City is beginning to arouse some concern here. The United States consul at Tampico has reported that Lindbergh passed over that city and other reports have stated that he passed over Tampico at 8:50 a. m. Mexican time. This should have placed him in Mexico City at approximately 11 o'clock, Mexican time.

Other reports however indicate that the plane sighted at Tampico may have been the commercial plane which landed at Valbuena and was mistaken for Lindbergh's plane.

Colonel Lindbergh may have been slowed up by fogs over the mountains between Mexico City and Tampico or he may have chosen to take a longer course in order to seek better atmospheric conditions.

At 2 p. m. New York time, Colonel Lindbergh had been in the air 25½ hours which is more than two hours longer than he had anticipated taking for the flight.

Although head-winds and fogs are reported, Colonel Lindbergh's time now is so slow that it is evident that he must have changed his course, if he has not made a forced landing.

Lindbergh was reported to have

ALL MEXICO READY TO HONOR LINDBERGH

National Holiday Proclaimed by Calles; First Ever for Foreigner

Mexico City, Dec. 14—All Mexico prepared to do unprecedented honor today to the first flying ambassador of good-will from the United States.

"Lindbergh" was the name that spurred the Mexican officials and people into a frenzy of welcome.

By proclamation of President Calles, today was a national holiday in honor of the flying colonel. Banking houses, stores, and all government offices were closed while the population prepared to greet Colonel Lindbergh when he lands at Valbuena Field.

According to residents, the holiday is the first ever proclaimed by Mexico for a foreigner.

At the field all preparations for handling a huge crowd were complete. Several regiments of soldiers were on hand and the major portion of the field was roped off to prevent a recurrence of the wild stampede of enthusiastic persons which nearly wrecked "The Spirit of St. Louis" when it landed at Le Bourget Field, Paris.

SEE WET-DRY FIGHT

Michigan's Senatorial Race To Take on Aspect of Referendum

Washington, Dec. 14—A wet-and-dry fight which will be, in effect, a referendum on prohibition is in prospect in Michigan's forthcoming Senatorial campaign, according to reports in political quarters here today.

Rep. Clarence J. McLeod, Republican of Detroit, is expected to declare himself a candidate for the Senate nomination soon after the first of the year. Similar declarations are expected from Rep. Grant M. Hudson of East Lansing, one of the dry leaders of the House, and from Ex-Gov. Chase M. Osborne, also a dry. McLeod will base his campaign on "a liberal platform," it is said.

R. T. LEWIS ELECTED HEAD OF REALTORS

Takes Office Jan. 4, Succeeding Karl W. Schell; Appraisal Method Discussed

Ralph T. Lewis, head of the Vernon Heights Realty Co., was elected president of the Marion Real Estate Board for 1928 at the annual meeting of the organization held at Hotel Harding, last night. He will take office on Jan. 4, succeeding Karl W. Schell, who served as president during the last year.

Other officers chosen for 1928 are C. D. Schaffner, vice president; Walter E. Schaffner, secretary and treasurer; M. E. Sweney, A. W. Granger, H. F. Stock and S. G. Glaesener, directors; W. T. Jones, member of the executive committee; E. H. Cowan, national committeeman.

During the meeting, which followed a 6 o'clock dinner, methods of appraisal and other questions relating to realty transactions were discussed.

A program of activities for the next year will probably be outlined when the new officers are installed.

WARNS ABOUT BAD HOLIDAY LIQUORS

No Special Drive Planned To Keep U. S. Dry Over Christmas

Washington, Dec. 14—There will be no special federal drive to keep the United States dry during the holiday season.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Seymour Lowman said today that the prohibition bureau is "carrying on" but that no unusual activity will take place this month.

A warning was issued by the prohibition bureau against poison holiday liquors. While the government has abandoned use of deadly poison as a denaturant, liquors redistilled from industrial alcohol were characterized as "unhealthful."

Industrial alcohol contains four per cent wood alcohol and a quantity of alcohol, a petroleum product.

BENITO, SO CRUEL!

Mussolini Too Busy To Read Christmas Greeting Cards

Rome, Dec. 14—Because he will be too busy to read them, Premier Mussolini today made public request to the citizens of Italy not to send him Christmas and New Year's messages of greeting. He has previously asked that no gifts be sent to him.

BECOMES NEW MARION COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Republican Residing in Marion Township Selected from List of Nearly 60

TAKES OFFICE ON JAN. 1

Appointee Is Brother-in-Law of Late Officer; Well Known in District

Oscar J. Hord, 50, farmer residing in the Likens Chapel section of Marion Township about five miles north of the city, was appointed today as member of the board of county commissioners to fill the vacancy resulting from the death of Commissioner John N. Rexroth.

Hord, a Republican, was chosen from a list of approximately 60 applicants representing practically all sections of the county. The appointment was made this morning by unanimous vote of Probate Judge L. B. McNeal, County Auditor Earl E. Thomas and County Recorder Charles E. Smith, the three officials delegated by law to fill the vacancy.

Takes Post Jan. 1

Hord will take office on Jan. 1 and serve until his successor is elected and qualified in November of 1928. The man elected will complete Mr. Rexroth's unexpired term, which runs until Jan. 1, 1931.

The appointee is a brother-in-law of Mr. Rexroth, his wife being a sister of the former commissioner. He is a lifelong resident of Marion County and is one of the best-known farmers in the community. He has never held public office.

In making their selection from the list of applicants, which is believed to be the largest on record in Marion County, the three officials deciding upon the choice considered several important points, they stated today.

First, they agreed that the man named should be a resident of the north section of the county, where Mr. Rexroth resided. This was regarded as especially important in view of the fact that the two other commissioners, O. W. Kinnamon and W. M. King, live in the southern part.

CANTON IS CAPTURED FROM REBEL FORCES

All Foreigners Reported Safe in Southern China Metropolis

Hong Kong, Dec. 14—After extremely heavy fighting resulting in many killed and wounded, Canton was captured from the Communistic rebels today.

The rebels who have had the city in their possession for several days, were gathered outside the city gates planning a counter attack, but the success of such a venture appeared improbable due to the constant arrivals of reinforcements of General Chang Fakuei's troops.

All foreigners in the city were reported safe. Naval advices declared no foreigners were molested during the occupation of the city by the rebels.

General Lifulin, assisted by General Hsiho, attacked the city from Kongmoon this morning. Fierce street fighting took place and it was only after severe fighting that each government building was recaptured.

The rebels were driven out of the city by afternoon.

SAYS LEVINE FAILED TO PAY PHONE, WIRE TOLLS

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Dec. 14 — Claiming that Charles A. Levine, American transatlantic flier, contracted large telephone and telegraph bills in Prague, which he failed to pay before his departure, the Prague Post-office today forwarded a bill to the Czechoslovakian minister at Washington for collection. If it is not paid, it was stated, the telephone and telegraph clerks handling the messages, will have to make good the loss.

CRITICIZE NAVY HEADS

Washington, Dec. 14—The Navy Department was criticized by members of the House Naval Affairs Committee for delaying construction of a new $4,500,000 airship, authorized a year and a half ago by Congress.

Lowestoft, Eng., Dec. 14—Lieut. Gen. Sir Edwin A. H. Alderson, who served with distinction in the British army in India and Africa, died today, aged 68.

TIDE SAVES CITY

American Oil Tanker Breaks in Two; Scatters Naptha and Gasoline

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 14—After passing a night of great anxiety, this city awoke today to find that the tide in the River Mersey had saved it from what might have been a serious conflagration.

With the ebbing tide, 10,000 tons of naptha, gasoline, and other highly combustible spirits were being carried out to sea. The dangerous mass was spread over the surface of the river when the American oil tanker Seminole broke in two.

Precautions were still being taken today against any lighted matches or the like being thrown into the river.

G. C. SNYDER IS PROMOTED TO HEAD ENGINEER

Becomes Chief of Bureau of Maintenance in State Highway Department

Promotion of Grover C. Snyder, division engineer of the state department of highways, to the position of chief engineer of the bureau of maintenance, one of the most important posts in the state road service, was announced at Columbus yesterday by George J. Schlesinger, state highway director, at his office in Columbus.

The appointment, which will go into effect on Jan. 1, was made in recognition of Snyder's record of service with the department, which dates back to 1912. He has served as division engineer with headquarters in Marion since 1924.

Snyder is 39 years of age and resides at 183 Silver-st. He stated today that although his office as chief of the bureau of maintenance will be in Columbus, he will remain a resident of Marion.

Succeeds Swineford

Snyder will succeed F. E. Swineford as head of the bureau. Swineford recently resigned to accept appointment as service director of the city of Akron. As an interesting circumstance connected with the appointment it was pointed out today that E. C. Gallcher, former Marion man, will be associated with Swineford, as a member of the board of control of Akron, Gallcher having been appointed city finance director.

As division engineer of the state department, Snyder has supervised ex-

SISTER OF MRS. REMUS UNDER DEFENSE FIRE

Mrs. Grace Campbell Defends Memory of Slain Woman from Stand

Courthouse, Cincinnati, Dec. 14—Mrs. Grace Campbell, sister of the slain Imogene Holmes Remus, resumed the witness stand at the trial of George Remus for murder today and defended the memory of the woman whom Remus shot and killed on Oct. 6 in Eden Park when she was on her way to court to divorce him.

She had told of how Remus had frequently threatened her sister, his favorite expression being: "I'll see that you don't have a dime to your or a hair on your head or a shred of character left. I'll crack a skull."

Q. You were present when Mr. and Mrs. Remus talked of making a financial settlement of their difficulties.

A. I was.

Q. Is it not a fact that Mr. Remus was not demanding she return $150,000 worth of his personal jewelry that she was keeping from him?

A. Not to my knowledge. (This was after Remus had been released from Atlanta Penitentiary and had accused his wife with intimacy with Franklin L. Dodge.)

STAR MISSING

Marjorie Rambeau Strangely Disappears from Theater Activities

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 14—Strangely missing rehearsals for her forthcoming stage performance, Marjorie Rambeau has mysteriously disappeared from her manager and friends, who have neither seen or heard from the actress for four days.

Efforts to notify her of the death at Concord, Cal., of her grandmother, a widow of the late Jacob Kibdleberger of Ohio, have been unavailing.

Meanwhile the show, in which Miss Rambeau was cast for the feminine lead, is scheduled to open here on Christmas Day.

COUNTY AGAIN FACES FLOOD AFTER DELUGE

Rivers and Tributaries Throughout District Out of Banks in Many Places

LA RUE UNDER WATER

Both Schools of Village Forced To Close; Prospect-rd Closed

As a result of yesterday's heavy rainfall, which registered total precipitation of 1.84 inches before the downpour ceased late last night, Marion County today faced its second flood menace of the last few weeks.

Rivers and their tributaries throughout the county are swollen above normal and are out of their banks in many places. The western and southern sections of the county are the hardest hit, the situation in LaRue and vicinity being especially serious.

There the Scioto River rose rapidly during the night and this morning flood waters covered many of the streets.

The water was reported to be 30 inches deep on High-st at noon today. Both schools of the village were forced to close for the day.

Discouraging Forecast

Arrival of clear weather this morning will prevent damage from further spread of the flood, it was predicted. Rivers in the northern part of the county were expected to begin falling some time today.

Today's official weather forecast is not encouraging, however, as it predicts increasing cloudiness, probably followed by rain Thursday.

The Scioto was reported to be rising at Newman's and Prospect but with no additional rainfall the crest was expected to be reached soon. The road between Prospect and Newman's was closed to traffic today when the flood water backed over it from the river at several points.

Roads Flooded

Several other roads in the western part of the county were flooded at several points but were not impassable.

County Surveyor C. R. Leavens made a survey of the river districts this morning and reported that the flood is almost as extensive as the one

JOINT COMMITTEE AND DAVIS CONFER

Fate of Labor Secretary's Coal Strike Parley May Soon Be Settled

Washington, Dec. 14—The fate of Secretary of Labor Davis' plan to bring about a partial settlement of the eight months' strike of bituminous coal miners may be settled today.

A joint committee of three mine workers and three operators will begin conferences today with Davis and hope was expressed by labor department officials that some good would result. The fact, however, that only a production of a little more than 10,000,000 tons annually is represented at the parley, while the big operators in the Pittsburgh, Ohio and Fairmount districts are holding aloof, indicates that any settlement reached will have little bearing on major operations in the affected districts.

Yesterday's sessions lasted throughout the day, the representatives of the mine workers union and the operators meeting separately for general discussion of various phases of the problems involved. These were followed late in the day by a joint conference, which resulted in the naming of a joint committee to confer with Davis.

PUSH BUILDING BILL

Scores of Small Cities Clamor for New Postoffices

Washington, Dec. 14—Backers of the Reed $100,000,000 Public Buildings Bill today planned to seek early action in Congress to meet demands of scores of smaller cities throughout the country which are clamoring for new federal court buildings and postoffices.

Representative Elliott, Republican of Indiana, chairman of the House Public Buildings Committee, announced that he would make an effort to have the authorization bill passed in time to affect appropriations for the next fiscal year.

The bill, introduced by Representative Reed, Republican of New York, was passed by the House last year and died in a Senate filibuster. Its chief effect is to increase the amount which may be spent outside the District of Columbia from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000 annually.

SEMI-ANNUAL TAX COLLECTION OPENS

No Unusual First-Day Rush Reported by County Treasurer Messenger

Marion County's semi-annual tax collection started today at the office of County Treasurer J. E. Messenger in accordance with his announcement several days ago in which he said that all records for the tax year had been completed.

While there was no unusual first day rush, taxpayers from all sections of the city and county were present for the "opening" and settled their semi-annual bills.

The collection will continue until Jan. 20 with probability of a five-day extension being granted for accommodation of local shop employes whose pay-days fall on Jan. 25.

INQUIRY PROPOSAL BEFORE COMMITTEE

Separate Probe Into Hearst Senatorial Charges Will Open Tomorrow

Washington, Dec. 14—A proposal for a sweeping investigation into the Mexican Government's policy toward the United States was before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today for decision.

Meanwhile, a separate inquiry will get under way tomorrow by a special committee concerning the $1,215,000 which the Hearst newspapers assert was appropriated by the Mexican government and ordered paid to four United States Senators.

The more sweeping investigation proposed by Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, would be conducted by the foreign relations committee. It would go not only into the Senatorial angle of Mexican activities, but would go into other charges made by the Hearst newspapers as well.

DELUGE CAUSES DAMAGE

New Lexington, Dec. 14—A deluge of rainfall which hit this section last night has caused much damage. The New Lexington-Somerset rd was flooded last night and bus operation between here and Zanesville was suspended when water three feet deep covered the road west of Crookesville.

HEALY TO RESIGN

Dublin, Dec. 14—Timothy Healy, who has been governor general of the Irish Free State since its creation, is about to resign, it was reported here today. Lord Decies and Lord Granard were mentioned as possible successors. Both peers have American wives.

JUNIOR HIGH PRINCIPAL AND WIFE INJURED

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Orcutt Victims of Crash at Main, Columbia-sts

LIQUOR CAR DRIVER HELD

Cans of Corn Whisky Strewn About Street; Police Seize 140 Gallons

Two Marion residents were injured, two cars badly damaged and between 50 and 75 one-gallon tins of liquor scattered over the street shortly after midnight this morning when a liquor-laden car driven at high speed crashed into a machine occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Orcutt, 472 Summit-st at Main and Columbia-sts.

The driver of the rum running car, a Buick Master Six coach, loaded with 175 gallons of corn whisky, made his getaway immediately after the crash, but was captured several hours later near Newman's bridge by local officers.

At police headquarters he gave the name of Ralph Terro, 23. He gave Columbus as his residence.

Shoulder Blade Broken

Mr. Orcutt, principal of Central Junior High School, was the most seriously injured. He sustained a broken shoulder blade and severe bruises. Mrs. Orcutt escaped with bruises and cuts. Both were treated by Dr. A. A. Starner, in front of whose residence the accident occurred and later were removed to their home.

The driver of the liquor car escaped injury, he told police officers.

So terrific was the force of the collision that the Orcutt car, an Overland six coach was dragged 60 feet, up over the curb and thrown against a tree. The machine turned over on its side on the sidewalk in front of the Starner residence.

Weighted down by 175 gallons of liquor, the liquor car held to the street, but was badly damaged.

Returning Home

Mr. and Mrs. Orcutt had spent the evening with friends on Linden-st and were going east on Columbia-st enroute to their home on Summit-st. After stopping at Main-st, which is a stop street, Mr. Orcutt said last night, he

OKLAHOMA GOVERNOR REMOVES GUARDSMEN

Johnston Permits Senate To Convene, but Still Bars Representatives

Oklahoma City, Dec. 14—Out of the chaos enveloping the Oklahoma political situation, an apparently authentic indication of the next few days' events came today.

This was the result of conferences lasting virtually all night. These began with an informal caucus of members of the state Senate at the Huckins Hotel and a conference between Gov. Henry S. Johnston, his principal legal and personal adviser, Judge James H. Armstrong and other attorneys, in Armstrong's office.

The first concrete result was the governor's order today, that the national guard patrol be removed from the Senate chamber at the capitol, permitting the Senate to meet there later in the day. The guard continued to bar admission of House members to their chamber in the other wing.

The senate, probably by tonight, will receive from the House Board of managers, the formal impeachment charges against Governor Johnston, Chief Justice Fred T. Branson and President Harry B. Cordell of the State Board of Agriculture.

The Senate then will decide whether to suspend Governor Johnston, pending his trial and declare Lieutenant Governor William J. Holloway, acting governor.

BOTH SEEK ESTATE

One Woman Has Five Children By Slain "Bootleg Sugar Baron"

Cleveland, Dec. 14—Claims of two women, each asking control of the $3,000,000 estate of "Big Joe" Lonardo, "bootleg sugar baron," who was killed in a gun fight Oct. 19, are expected to be settled by a probate court decision here today.

Mrs. Fannie Lonardo claiming to be the "lawful wedded wife" of Joe Lonardo, Tuesday told Judge Addams that she married "Big Joe" after he had threatened to kill her if she refused. Directly behind her in court sat Miss Concietta Lonardo, who had borne Joe Lonardo five children, and who was appointed administratrix of Joe's estate following his death.

MAKES RADIO STATIC UNHEARD

A simple, amazing device has been invented by C. H. Geppert, N-1002 Hewitt Bldg., Des Moines, Ia., which filters 50 to 90 per cent of static in radio receiving sets. Not only that, but when static is not bad, you can increase your volume tremendously, bring in more distant stations, save 30 to 40 per cent on batteries, eliminate local stations from running in, give your set at least one more stage of radio reception and greater selectivity. Works on all radios; can be attached instantly by anyone without change to set. Mr. Geppert wants agents and is willing to send a no-cost sample. Write him today.—Adv.

MAGAZINE WRITER

Wilson R. Dumble Contributes to Publication at O. S. U.

Marion Star Bureau
Ohio State University

Columbus, Dec. 14—One of the chief contributors of the latest literary magazine to appear on the Ohio State University campus is Wilson R. Dumble, a student at the university and a former resident of Marion.

"Apes and Peacocks," the new publication, is composed by the literary efforts of students enrolled in the higher classes in English at the university. It is sponsored by Chi Delta Phi, honorary literary sorority.

Dumble's chief contribution, titled, "Zurich" appeared on the front page of the first edition of the magazine. The former Marion man is a member of the editorial staff and will write for the magazine which will be published monthly at the university in the future.

Dumble was formerly an instructor at Vernon Heights and Central Junior High Schools and was at one time connected with a newspaper in Marion. He is a senior at the university and is enrolled in the College of Education.

The Marion man has also contributed to other campus publications including the Sundial and the Candle.

THIS MARION MAN FREE OF AGONIES OF INDIGESTION

He Tells How Konjola Banished Two Years of Stomach Trouble.

"I think I must be the happiest man in Marion, since Konjola has ended my stomach trouble, and I don't hesitate to indorse such a medicine," said Mr. J. H. Williams, well-known local citizen, living at 621 E. George St., this city.

MR. J. H. WILLIAMS

while talking a few days ago with The Konjola Man at Stump & Sams Pharmacy, 121 South Main Street, Marion. Mr. Williams has been in the employ of the Erie Railroad thirty years.

"I had been suffering with stomach and liver trouble," said Mr. Williams. "My food would never digest right, but always seemed to turn sour and ferment. This caused gas bloating and my heart would flutter and jump until I thought it would stop beating entirely. I would become so short of breath I had to gasp for air. Dizzy spells would come over me, especially when I attempted to stoop over. Lots of times I had to catch myself to keep from falling. I was badly constipated all the time and had to take the strongest laxatives almost every night. I was in very poor health in general, and had been trying so many things without benefit that I didn't know what to do for myself.

"A friend of mine told me about Konjola and how so many people in Marion were getting wonderful results with this medicine. I got two bottles and before the first one was gone I could feel a big improvement all over my system, and as I continued with Konjola I was getting better every day. Now I feel like a different man. I can eat what I want and never have a touch of indigestion. The bloating spells never come over me, and I don't have the dizzy attacks or headaches. I have a better appetite and can sleep good at nights. My food agrees with me better that it has in two years, and I am feeling like I never had stomach trouble in my life.

"Konjola has built me up in a great many ways and I certainly am thankful for this medicine, so it is a pleasure to indorse it to everyone who is needing it."

The Konjola Man is at the Stump & Sams Pharmacy, 121 South Main Street, Marion, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.—Adv.

PLAN NEW THRUSTS ON TAX CUT BILL

Democrats Would Send Measure to Senate Radically Changed

Washington, Dec. 14—Having already scored two striking victories in the legislative quarrel over the new tax bill, Democratic tax experts of the House today planned new thrusts which would send the bill to the Senate radically changed from the form approved by the ways and means committee.

There remained 15 pages of the bill open for amendment as the House plunged into debate again today. A final vote is expected tomorrow.

The bill, as it now stands, is highly unsatisfactory to the Republican pols who announced their intention of attempting to undo the work of the Democrats when the proper stage is reached under the House rules of procedure.

Having bowled over the majority program by forcing a sliding scale of taxation for small corporations, the Democrats also succeeded in knocking out provisions which provided for joint returns of affiliated corporations.

This provision was attacked by the minority, assisted by some scattered Republican support, as an invitation to great corporations to use the losses of some subsidiary companies to offset the profits of others, and thereby escape much taxation.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—Adv.

Former Marion Resident To Serve on Control Board Directing Akron Affairs

E. C. Galleher To Be One of Four Members of Body To Serve During Administration of Mayor-Elect Lloyd Weil

E. C. Galleher, former Marion resident is to be one of the four members of the board of control which will direct affairs of the city of Akron during the administration of Mayor-elect Lloyd Weil, who is to take office on Jan. 2.

Galleher, who has a wide acquaintance here and other localities in Central Ohio, will fill the position of city finance director. As a member of the board of control he will be associated with the mayor, and directors of law, service and safety.

New Deputy Auditor

Announcement of Galleher's appointment and names of the law and service directors was made yesterday by Mayor-elect Weil. The safety director will be appointed within a few days, it was stated.

Galleher, who is now deputy auditor of Summit County, will receive a salary of $4,500 a year in his new position as city finance director.

He is 43 years of age, having been born near Martel, Marion County, on July 12, 1884. Politically, he is a Democrat. His record of public service, which has been one of marked efficiency, began in 1911 when he became deputy treasurer of Hardin County, serving in that capacity until 1915. During the next two years he was assistant state examiner under Vic Donaher, then state auditor.

Left Public Work

During 1917 and 1918 Galleher left public work and was employed as cashier at the Erie Railroad offices in Akron and during that period he formed an acquaintanceship which finally led to his appointment to county office there and culminated in advancement to the position which he will occupy in the next city administration.

Marion friends of Galleher say, however, that his progress has been due chiefly to ability and conscientious service rather than to politics or personal friendship.

His work as state examiner, a position to which he was appointed in 1919, is regarded as having been the primary cause of his later advancement. He served as examiner under State Auditor Donaher, continuing in that capacity until Joseph Tracy, the present auditor, took office.

To Akron in 1923

That was in 1923, when he went to Akron to become chief deputy clerk of courts. He filled that place until 1925, when he accepted appointment as deputy auditor, his present position.

During his term of service as state examiner, Galleher had charge of the inspection and supervision of all county offices in Marion, Hardin, Wyandot, Delaware, Crawford, Seneca and Wood counties.

Local officials say that in addition to being one of the most capable examiners ever serving in this territory, he was unusually popular.

During his earlier years in Marion County, Galleher attained prominence in local athletic circles and was ranked as one of the county's best amateur baseball players.

$29,126 OWED CITY BY AUDITOR, CLAIM

Report on Examination of Springfield Official's Books Made Public

Columbus, Dec. 14—Due to shortage in his accounts, C. F. Moorehead, until recently city auditor at Springfield, owes that city $29,126.70, according to a report made public here today by State Auditor Joseph Tracy.

Having pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement, Moorehead last Monday began a sentence in Ohio Penitentiary of from five to 21 years' imprisonment.

Moorehead's arrest occurred Nov. 2, last, when state examiners revealed the alleged deficit in his accounts. He became city auditor in 1922.

The shortage, it was stated, is fully covered by the bond given by Moorehead as city auditor. State officials today thought that Moorehead's bondsmen would make good the deficit without litigation.

Special Examination

The report made public today by Auditor Tracy covers a special examination of the city auditor's office at Springfield for the period from Jan. 1, 1919, to Oct. 31, 1927. The examination was made by State Examiner W. A. Galigher and by G. E. Hambleton, assistant.

The findings for recovery, contained in the report, against Moorehead include: $7,870, alleged due the city's sinking fund and $21,256.70, to the city treasury.

The report charged that Moorehead "had been drawing checks payable to the First National Bank and the Lagonda National Bank, presumably in purchase of city investments, and converting the proceeds to his personal use.

"After such conversion it then became necessary for the city auditor to cover such transactions upon the books in order to properly balance with cash. This was accomplished by numerous false entries," continued the report.

MRS. WEST READS AND PLAYS WITH BLOCKS

Painesville Woman Slayer Recovering from Collapse in Court

Painesville, Dec. 14—Supplied with books and puzzle blocks, Mrs. Velma West, petite 21-year-old blond widow, charged with the murder of her husband, Edward West, 26, at Perry, eight days ago, today was dividing her time between reading and attempting to solve the block problems. She was reported recovering rapidly from her collapse of Monday.

The books were brought to her by her mother, Mrs. L. B. Van Woert, and the blocks were furnished by her little brother, Kenneth.

Habeas corpus proceedings to obtain Mrs. West's freedom on bond, which had been promised by Francis W. Poulson and Richard Bostwick, attorneys for the accused, failed to materialize yesterday, and for the first time since the murder, neither Poulson nor Bostwick visited their client.

Mrs. West collapsed in the courtroom Monday when Common Pleas Judge Helter bound her to the grand jury without bond and characterized the slaying of her husband as "one of the most unspeakable crimes ever committed in Lake County."

Should the threatened habeas corpus procedure be entered, Prosecutor Seth Paulin has made it known that he will fight it. Paulin stated that he believed state witnesses who testified at the preliminary hearing for Mrs. West last Monday, would be sufficient to block any attempt to have Mrs. West freed from jail. She is being held without bond for action of the Lake County Grand Jury, which is scheduled to convene the second week in January.

AWAIT SMITH'S WORD

Senator-Elect Asked If He Desires To Produce Witnesses

Washington, Dec. 14—The Reed committee today awaited word from Senator-elect Frank L. Smith, Republican of Illinois, before taking any step toward reopening its slush fund investigation.

The committee telegraphed Smith, asking him whether he desired to produce witnesses or new testimony. A similar request will be sent Senator-elect William S. Vare, Republican of Pennsylvania, as soon as the Smith case is settled.

The Reed committee also planned a conference with the Senate Committee on Priveleges and Elections to determine which body should conduct a recount of the ballots cast in the Pennsylvania Senatorial election last year. Most of the ballots, seized some months ago, are still held by the federal courts of Pennsylvania. The Reed committee, it was said, does not wish to undertake the recount but does desire to examine some of the ballot boxes in connection with fraud charges.

DINING CAR RESTAURANT WILL BE OPENED HERE

Marion is to have a dining car restaurant.

A new innovation in eating places, the car will be installed in the front of the lot belonging to the Eagles lodge, which is located just west of the Lennon Furniture store and which has been leased by the Dunkirk Dining Car Co. of Dunkirk, N. Y.

The place will be under the management of Earl Scott, formerly of Youngstown, it was announced today by E. A. Cees, a representative of the company who is in charge of installing the restaurant here.

Work of excavating for the foundation of the car, was started this morning and it is expected the car which is of all steel construction, and which is shipped intact, will be here by the time the foundation is ready.

State May Rest Case in Galion Bank Robbery Trial Today

FIVE IDENTIFY HARRY ZILLICK

Point Him Out in Courtroom as Member of Holdup Gang

(Special to The Star)

Bucyrus, Dec. 14—Should the trial of Harry Zillick, Toledo, for bank robbery here continue with the same speed throughout the afternoon as during the morning hours, it was expected that the state will rest its case and the first defense witness will be called before tonight's adjournment.

The total of positive identifications of Zillick as a member of the band of five men that held up the Galion Commercial Savings Bank and stole $175,000 in cash, bonds and stocks was raised to five this morning with the testimony of Curtis Tracht, assistant cashier of the bank.

A court ruling gave the state a victory in a major legal contention over evidence this morning before Tracht took the stand.

President M. A. Curtis of the bank had been called to the stand and during cross examination, the defense continued to query the witness concerning a Denver Federal Land Bank bond, which had been in the loot and was located some weeks ago in Minnapolis, with bonds that had been taken in bank holdups at Dowagiac, Mich., Defiance, O., Columbus, O., and LaPorte, Ind. Opposition to this method of questioning by the state threw the court in a turmoil of legal harangue. Judge Walter Wright dismissed the jury and the witness, heard the attorneys' arguments and overruled all testimony tending to relate the other robberies with the Galion case.

Letter Introduced

Preceding Curtis' testimony, the state introduced as an exhibit, an anonymous letter received a few days after the June 28 holdup by E. B. Beall, vice president and cashier of the bank. Postmarks on the letter indicate that it was mailed from Toledo, June 30, last at 11:30 p. m. Its text follows: "The bank robbers are from Toledo. Billy Hand and Harry Zillick. You will find them in Toledo. Billy Hand pulled lots of jobs."

Tracht first testified that the bank at the time of the holdup had $15,000 in cash, $60,000 in bonds and $100,000 worth of stocks, which bank officials reported comprised the holdup loot. He described the entrance of the five bandits into the bank. The first, he said, wielded two guns menacingly. He pointed out Zillick as the man who covered him and ordered him to open the bank safe containing the securities. He was taken to the vault room twice under the bandits' orders he said and that on one of the trips, he again came face to face with Zillick.

Bookkeeper Testifies

Cross examination failed to shake his story.

Louise Finen, a customer of the bank at the time of the holdup, was scheduled to take the witness stand immediately after the noon recess.

The testimony of Margaret Tracht, assistant bookkeeper of the bank, who was the second person to positively identify Zillick as a holdup man, was the high spot in the yesterday afternoon's proceedure. She said that Zillick covered her with a gun and said "Come on, sister, don't be afraid" as he conducted her to the cashier's office. This was the second occasion that Miss Tracht has identified Zillick, the first being on July 20 in the Crawford County jail.

Eleanor Poister followed Miss Tracht and related practically an identical account of the holdup. She was occupying the same cage in the bank with Miss Tracht at the time of the crime. Miss Mildred Clements, who was a customer at the girls' window at the time, was led to the cashier's room by an unidentified bandit.

Zillick Unmoved

Zillick thus far in the trial has been unmoved by the positive pointing of the state's witnesses and has remained his calm self.

Dr. Hartman and Newton of Toledo, testified before Judge Wright in the absence of the jury for the defense. They said that Zillick had an injured foot some months previous to the robbery and that it was the result of a gunshot wound. Several bones were smashed and an infection resulted. The last treatment of the injured member was in the latter part of May. The witnesses were unable to state whether or not Zillick was able to use the foot on the day of the robbery, one month later. An x-ray of the bones in the foot was presented by the defense as an exhibit.

"Improved My Skin In a Short Time!"

Realizing the problem of women generally in beautifying and protecting their skin, radiant Iris Gray, Paramount Junior Star, tells how Black and White Cold Cream helped her solve that problem.

"Due to the large amount of cream and powder it is necessary for me to use in my stage and picture work," says Miss Gray, "I found it necessary to purchase the various theatrical preparations. They made my skin dry and chapped. Then I began using Black and White Cold Cream and in a short time my skin returned to its former smoothness."

LIQUOR-LADEN AUTO HITS CAR, TWO HURT

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Orcutt Victims of Crash at Main, Columbia-sts

started his car and seeing the car approaching from the north on Main-st, increased the speed of his machine and had nearly crossed the intersection when he was struck by the southbound machine.

Police had received a tip that the car was going through Marion, and were stationed near Marion Cemetery. Before they arrived at the scene of the accident, the driver of the car had disappeared. Suspecting that he might have continued on his way, officers scoured the roads leading south from the city and shortly after 3 o'clock this morning their efforts were rewarded, when a young man was arrested near Newman's bridge. He told police he was the driver of the car and that he was on his way to Columbus.

Speeding, Claim

That the car carrying the liquor was being driven at a high rate of speed, was vouched for by several persons, who said that the machine had crossed Center-st at a "60-mile-an-hour" rate, and had not sounded his horn or made any attempt to watch for traffic from opposite directions.

The noise of the collision soon attracted a crowd and before the police could gather up the cans from the street, several had disappeared south on Main-st under the overcoats of spectators, it is said.

Mystery surrounds the ownership of the liquor car. Terro told the police the car belonged to Peter Victali, E. Fifth-av, Columbus. A garage receipt found in the machine, however, shows the car to have been in the repair shop with the name of Tom Michael, 306 Neal-av, given as the owner. A check made by the police with the Columbus city directory shows Tom Michael to reside at that address. The license on the car was issued to Victali for a Chevrolet coupe, investigation disclosed.

One hundred and forty full cans of liquor were taken to police headquarters. The other 35 cans or most of them at least, lost their contents when they were punctured in the collision.

It was said a charge of illegal transportation of liquor would be placed against Terro today. The wrecked Buick was taken to the Albert Brothers garage and the Orcutt machine to the Overland garage on W. Center-st.

REPORT LINDBERGH HAS REACHED GOAL

Confusion Exists, However, Over Dispatches from Southern Capital

passed Tampico, Mexico, at 9:50 (E. S. T., at which time he was to turn inland towards the Mexican capital.

Aransas Pass, Texas, reported that Lindbergh flew over that place at 5:03 (E. S. T.) at a speed estimated at about 125 miles an hour. Aransas Pass is approximately 1,400 miles from Washington, 150 miles from the Mexican border and 390 miles from Tampico.

Despite bad weather Lindbergh followed the course he had planned for himself, using a map he had drawn himself. His rate of speed evidently varied, according to the weather conditions he encountered.

Port Aransas reported fog over the Gulf of Mexico coast but clear weather inland.

The idea is a new one in Marion and has been arranged by the store with a view of assisting the male of the species in solving his problem of what to get wife, mother, sister or sweetheart for Christmas.

GAS RATE PROTESTS HEARING SCHEDULED

Logan Company Making Efforts To Effect Compromise with Cities

Hearing on the protests filed by Marion and approximately 30 other Ohio cities against rate increases sought by the Logan Gas Co. was scheduled today before the state utilities commission.

While the majority of the protesting municipalities, including Marion, are proceeding with their fight, the gas company is making efforts to effect a compromise with several of the cities originally lined up with the protestants.

A compromise rate, it is reported, has been accepted by Elyria and an effort is being made to effect a similar settlement at Lorain.

Yesterday, it was reported, Freeman T. Eagleson, attorney for the company, informed a group of Lorain citizens that the company is ready to accept a rate schedule to effect peace, even though the rates agreed upon may be "unreasonable low."

ONE MAN MISSING, FOUR HURT IN CRASH

Two Score of Passengers Shaken Up and Bruised in Headon Collision

Hoxie, Ark., Dec. 14—One man was missing, four seriously injured and two score passengers shaken up and bruised as a result of a head-on crash today between the Kansas City Florida special crack Frisco passenger, and a freight train, five miles north of here. Both engines, two mail cars and one baggage coach were overturned into a ditch while three passenger cars were derailed.

Hal Thorne, engineer on the passenger, of Thayer, Mo., is missing and believed to be buried under the wreckage.

which threatened serious damage several weeks ago. The only damage to county property reported to him thus far was the washout of a culvert northeast of Green Camp.

The flood situation developed in a remarkably short time, due to the unusually heavy deluge of rain and the fact that the earth was thoroughly watersoaked when the downpour set in.

Rivers and streams in all parts of the state were reported at flood or near-flood stage.

Most sections reported waterfall of more than two inches since yesterday morning.

The Tuscarawas and Walhonding Rivers were both flooding this morning and flood stage was reached in the Muskingum Valley, according to reports from Coshocton. At Zanesville, the Muskingum reached 21.2 feet and was still rising this afternoon.

High water was also general in the Hocking Valley and some damage will probably be suffered at Lancaster and Athens.

The Sandusky was also rising and warnings were sent to Tiffin and Fremont from the U. S. Weather Bureau at Columbus.

The Ohio will probably not reach flood stage, according to Weatherman Alexander, Columbus. At Parkersburg, the Ohio stood at 24.5 feet, but was still rising this afternoon. Flood stage is 36 feet.

OSCAR J. HORD NEW COMMISSIONER HERE

Republican Residing in Marion Township Selected from List of Nearly 60

cants were carefully measured, the three officials state, and although many on the list were found to be fitted for the position in every respect, Hord was finally decided upon as the one who met all requirements most satisfactorily.

Appointment of a third member of the board to fill the vacancy was not compulsory under the state law, which stipulates that such vacancies shall be filled if it is decided that the interests of the county require an appointment. Otherwise the vacancy would exist until filled at the election next fall.

Because of the long period which will elapse before the next election and the fact that within the next few months the board of commissioners will map out the county's program of work for the coming year, the probate judge, auditor and recorder agreed that the vacancy should be filled at once.

All but four or five of the applicants for the position were Republicans. Two of the officials making the appointment, Judge McNeal and Auditor Thomas, are Republicans, and the third, Recorder Smith, is a Democrat.

As the result of a recent survey made by it, the Chicago Church federation announces that the big city on Lake Michigan is religious, ninety per cent. of its population having been found to be church members. It is not for us to judge, but we can not escape the suspicion that some of them are not seriously at work on the job.

The native Indian press is indignant over the lavish entertainment given by Maharajah Ranjitsinhji in honor of Lord Irwin, the British viceroy, which is said to have cost the maharajah $919,800, and we can not help but feel that it is right in the matter. Personally, we wouldn't think of spending an amount like that on half a dozen viceroys.

That World Court Letter.

We note that President Coolidge has been urged to resume negotiations leading to the entrance of the United States in the Permanent Court of International Justice—the World court—in a letter bearing the signatures of prominent men and women throughout the country. The 395 signers of the communication, we are told, are "men and women of prominence in many walks of life. Members of both political parties are included. Bankers, business men, public officials, educators, editors and publishers are among the signers. The long list includes eleven governors and ex-governors and almost 100 editors of newspapers and magazines. The West and Middle West, where public sentiment was strongly arrayed against adherence of this country to the World court as an agency of the League of Nations, are strongly represented."

We have reason to know that the letter carries the number of names specified and that the names subscribed represent men and women in many walks of life. We are not unfriendly to the resumption of negotiations looking to the entrance of this country into the World court. We believe that all such matters should be given deep consideration. If American rights can be wholly safeguarded after entrance, and there is no constitutional bar to the membership of this country in such a court, we can see how possible benefit might accrue to the world from our entrance. But we are wholly out of sympathy with the plan of addressing such a communication to the president. We do not for a minute imagine that Mr. Coolidge will give the communication a higher appraisal than it deserves. He knows enough of the ways of the world and the propagandists therein to recognize it for what it is, but it misleads the public.

The fact that such a letter has been sent to the president is published throughout the country, and there is grave probability that many newspaper readers will assume that the letter is the voluntary act of 395 people of eminence. "Leaders," we note one paper calls them. The general public does not know, as we know, that the names have been secured by an organization committed to the World court and thus to the League of Nations after weeks upon weeks of effort. As a matter of fact, we have reason to believe that the country has been gone over in persistent search for signers, and that repeated appeals have been made to those who neglected or refused to sign.

As an index of the popular feeling of the country, such communications may usually be accepted as misleading, and we are of the opinion that the one in question is in no way an exception to the rule.

Five-Year Naval Program.

The Washington announcement that President Coolidge had given his approval to a five-year naval building program calling for an expenditure of approximately $1,000,000,000, for which congressional authorization would be asked this week, may be taken as the direct result of the failure of last summer's three-power naval conference in Geneva.

At that time, it was given out that the failure to reach an agreement by which to limit expenditures in naval construction and maintenance not covered by the Washington treaty of 1922 was due to the inability of Great Britain and the United States to get together in the matter of cruiser armament. Britain insisting on five-inch rifles on cruisers of future construction and the United States holding out for armaments of eight-inch guns. That this was the real explanation of the lack of accomplishment of the conference was doubted at the time, although this country was justified in insisting upon the heavier armament in order that such cruisers as might be built by us would compare in armament with the recently-built British cruisers.

However, a better explanation is that which may be had from frequent intimations from across the Atlantic that the conference failed owing to the refusal of the United States government to accede to Britain's very peculiar conception of the rights of belligerents in regard to neutral shipping. It has not been intimated that the matter of blockades in time of war was introduced at the conference, but it has been intimated that the fact that it was not taken up was due to the policy of Great Britain in bringing about a disagreement before the matter of blockades could be taken up. In a word, the real cause of the failure is hinted to have been that Britain would insist upon the right to exercise just such a policy toward neutral shipping in future wars as she followed in the World war, a policy inconsistent with all formerly-held conceptions of international law.

Be the explanation what it may, the Geneva conference failed, and it is conceded even in Great Britain that the failure was due to the course pursued by the British government, and now we have as a result of the failure as the answer of the United States government to the course of Britain the very ambitious naval program just announced which, with the president's approval, will be recognized as an administration measure.

The program provides for the construction of twenty-five 10,000-ton cruisers, three aeroplane carriers, five or six fleet submarines similar to the V-4, of the largest and most advanced type, and from five to eighteen destroyer leaders. If any battleships are authorized construction upon them can not begin until 1932, at which time under the Washington treaty this country can start construction upon two capital ships.

Last year President Coolidge opposed a big naval program. This year, no doubt moved by the utter failure of the gathering in Geneva, he is for a program which will speedily put our navy on something of an equality with that of Great Britain, and it is predicted that it will meet the approval of both houses of congress, the house vote on the matter of the elevation of the guns on the Nevada and Oklahoma being held to be indicative of the changed attitude of both houses of congress regarding the necessity for the upbuilding of the navy.

The French government has placed a steamer ticket tax of fifty francs on both incoming and outgoing first-class Atlantic crossings, but what's a tax of $2.35 after one has paid for half a dozen visas at $10 each and given up from $50 to $100 in tips for service which should be included in the $50-a-day-and-upward charge for transportation, meals and accommodations?

Stomach and Brain as One.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Is there any way to control the temper except by the exercise of will-power?

The other day I discussed this subject with a friend whom I met on a train. He said: "Whenever I eat too much at a meal, within a few hours I find myself in bad humor."

There can be no doubt that there is an intimate relationship between the digestive organs and the brain. The most modern of the brain specialists recognize this.

A great insane asylum has the reputation of discharging the largest percentage of its inmates. In this institution the condition of the intestinal tract of every patient is always a matter of study.

Of course, there must be something more than indigestion to cause insanity. But long continued indigestion prepares the way for infections which may lead to mental unbalance.

To overload the stomach, particularly with gas producing foods, makes you feel uncomfortable. Pretty soon you are cross and irritable. You are in bad humor and your associates suffer in consequence.

It is a great mistake to give way to appetite. It makes no difference what appetite it is. To indulge it is to prepare the way for disaster.

Your appetites should be under full control. It is just as dangerous to give unrestrained freedom to the gratification of appetite, as it is for a drunken chauffeur to drive his car in absolute disregard of the rules of traffic.

Most of our tastes are cultivated tastes. We have to learn to like lots of the things we eat. It is harder to "unlearn." But common sense tells you it is important to give up some of the things you "just love" to eat.

Perhaps it is more important to eat moderately of the things you particularly enjoy. If you can not bring yourself to moderation regarding those foods, it is better to give them up entirely.

To be good natured, to be vigorous, to be healthy, you must eat sensibly and temperately. To indulge freely and frequently will destroy your usefulness and threaten your life.

I have my favorite foods and have to be extremely careful not to partake too freely of some of them. What a temptation to say with Rip Van Winkle: "We won't count this one!"

It wouldn't matter much if overeating or eating the wrong thing made you merely uncomfortable. But it makes you uncomfortable to others. You may do as you like with your own body, but you have no business to make other people unhappy.

Then, as a last word, you have no moral right to undermine your health. You have been intrusted by the Creator with a perfectly made body. It is your duty to keep it in perfect order.

That storied day, he drove from place to place
Down all the valley roads, and paid his bills—
And some were ancient as the very hills—
And did it with a grave but pleasant face.
It seems 'Doc' Burnes had warned him that his case
Was serious—a skipped heart-beat that kills
Within a breath—a grave—the whip-poor-wills
On dark Pine hill: Heb settled bills apace.

His peace thus made with God, he paused to die.
And through the summer waited on till fall.
And then for years, and never seemed much worse;
But from the time he knew death passed him by
He wore a grouch as gloomy as a pall
And never passed "Doc" Burns without a curse.

THE BONES OF OUR SKYSCRAPERS.

Whether or not it was the intention of Sir Edwin Luytens, distinguished British architect whose views about the dangers of skyscrapers reach us this week in the London cables, to scare New Yorkers into instant emigration, his picture of weakened buildings tumbling down from old age into the canyons of our streets is not precisely reassuring. We all know that the hollow inhabited mountains in the shadows of which so many of us spend our days stand up on steel skeletons inside their walls of brick and tile. Forty years is about as long, Sir Edwin threatens, as we can expect these steel bones to endure. Growth of the city has been so rapid that few buildings of any kind have been left standing for forty years. No skyscraper is so old, for this style of structure was not invented four decades ago. If it is true that steel building frames as constructed in this country will rust away their strength inside of forty years or less, that is a question of much more than academic interest to the millions with whom, or on whom, these structures would tumble if their bones gave way.

Fortunately, the condition of these bones has not been so completely neglected by our architectural health officers as a reading of Sir Edwin's interview might suggest. It is not true, as he was quoted as saying, that the steel inside the former Madison Square garden was found "eaten with rust." On the contrary, the condition of that structure, when it was removed last year, was reasonably satisfactory. It might have stood without apparent danger for many years. The steel from its interior was examined by committees of experts. The facts learned will be embodied in future practice. Nothing in these facts or known from other sources implies any serious danger to skyscraper structures from decay of their steel frames by rust.

The chief danger foreseen by American skyscraper experts, who have been no less cautious than their foreign colleagues, even if less alarmist, is not the danger of rust, but the theoretical possibility that time might create in the steel frames a slow recrystallization of the metal which would lead to weakness like the crystallization sometimes observed in very ancient glass articles and which may make them fall to dust at a touch. It was fear of this insidious internal deterioration, not of rust, that prompted the examination of the steel from Madison Square garden. No signs were found of important weakening of the metal in this way. Probably our skyscrapers are no more permanent than the majority of other human structures. Nor would we urge them as the final works of architectural genius or the ultimate crown of art. But neither are they so fragile that we may expect to feel the middle-aged ones crashing down presently about our ears.—New York Herald Tribune.

THE FOREIGN LEGION.

To the romantic appeal of a young American's release from the French Foreign legion is added an interesting conflict of opinion as to the characteristics of that famous organization. After winning distinction for bravery the youth had been driven by some unendurable experience to desert. Condemned to eight years' imprisonment, he was permitted after a year to resume his military service, and finally was granted the usual boon of discharge. In dismissing him his colonel sternly laid upon him one duty—to refute the "monstrous lies" of an American film "reviling the legion," the mere mention of which left the speaker "nearly choking with anger."

Military loyalty and pride in one's corps are understandable emotions; but the French officer's fury against the picture in question seems a little excessive. While "Beau Geste" exploits vividly the rigors of discipline in the legion, the sinister antecedents of some of its troopers and the extremely hard-boiled proclivities of its non-commissioned officers, it also exalts that body's repute for fidelity and unsurpassed courage. That the life is raw, that the rules are ruthlessly severe, and that the polyglot ranks attract some adventurers and fugitives from law are undeniable facts; and along with its realism in these respects the picture leaves a stirring impression of loyalty to regimental tradition and the French flag.

"He's a tough old egg, but on the level," said the young American of his late commander, and went on:

"The legion is no young ladies' seminary. The discipline is severe, and some of the men are rather forceful characters, to say the least. Discipline—that's all they know. And goodness knows what would happen if discipline were relaxed for a moment. The colonel thinks I should have been shot for desertion. He told me so. He would have me shot, without a tremor, but he would raise a row to get me a medal if he though I deserved it."

The good colonel, indeed, unconsciously furnishes support for the version he denounces. His personality and his sentiments would have fitted into the movie story quite nicely.—Philadelphia Record.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

A trusted official in an Ohio city goes to jail. He is nearly $30,000 short in his accounts. Confessing, he says he took the first step five years ago when he had a smaller city job and embezzled just $40.

"I expected to pay it back," he said, "but it grew too fast for me."

There is a fatal tendency in all living things to keep moving in the direction in which they have started. Starting in the wrong way we keep going in the wrong way unless we make a definite effort to turn about.

The same tendency in life that keeps us going wrong, once we have started in the wrong direction, works both ways. Start definitely in the right direction and it is increasingly easier to keep going in that direction. Save a little money and it is increasingly easier to save more money. Habit is more than a bad master. It can be made into a powerful servant.

You read of progress on the part of German scientists in making rubber from a potato or starch base. Synthetic rubber has been produced before. Usually the product has been inferior to regular rubber or the cost of production has been too great. But conditions will change. Labor in the rubber fields can be had for thirty cents a day. That sort of thing will not go on always. Scientists will do well to continue their experiments for making many things that are now grown.

Industrial corporations and the federal government are spending $200,000,000 a year for industrial research. Corporations spend two dollars for every dollar spent by the government. The government has to spend so much for powder and battleships that it is handicapped in its usefulness. Research means improvement—improvement in the world in which we live.

Just before Lincoln was nominated for the presidency he was offered the position of general counsel for the New York Central railroad. The job was to pay $10,000 a year. Lincoln said to the official who made the offer:

"What could I do with $10,000 a year? It would ruin my family to have that much income. I don't believe I had better consider it."

That seems a strange decision. In the case of many men, today as well as in 1860, it would be a wise judgment.

Michael Balfe—Composer.

BY COZETTE DOUGLASS.

An Irish composer, producing operas in French and Italian is almost sufficient to give Michael William Balfe an established reputation of itself.

Balfe was born in Dublin on May 15, 1808. His first instruction in music was received from his father, who was a dancing master. Later he received lessons from O'Rourke, in Dublin, and from C. F. Horn in London. From 1814 to 1815 he played the violin for his father's dancing classes. His composition began with a polacca which he wrote at the age of seven years. In 1817 he made his first public appearance as a concert violinist and during this year he published his first ballad.

On the death of his father, he obtained a position as violinist in the Drury Lane theater, in London, but being possessed of a rather pleasing baritone voice, he decided to become an opera singer. However, owing to the untrained condition of his voice, this venture did not prove successful. In 1825 his patron, Count Mazzari, took Balfe to Italy, where he studied composition and singing. While in Italy, Balfe frote his first dramatic composition, the ballet, "La Perouse." In 1827 he made his first appearance in opera at the Italian opera in Paris. However, he soon returned to Italy, where for the next nine years he sang at the various opera-houses and produced several Italian operas. During this time he married Lina Roser, a Hungarian singer.

In 1835 Balfe returned to England and his brilliant career as a composer of English operas started with the production of the "Siege of Rochelle," first produced at the Drury Lane theater.

Balfe attempted to manage his own opera troupe, but failing in the venture went to Paris, where he remained until 1843. In this year he returned to England, bringing with him the score of the lovely opera, "The Bohemian Girl." This was an instantaneous success and is the best known of his operas.

The list of Balfe's compositions is long and varied. The lovely melodies of "When Other Hearts" and "I Dreamt That I Dwell in Marble Halls," are known the world over, and deservingly so, for they are the purest form of melody. Much of his work was trivial, but the enduring compositions which he has left so far over-balance his lesser works, that one can forgive the lesser for the beauty of the greater.

Balfe retired in 1864 to his estate in Herefordshire as a gentleman farmer. He died there on October 20, 1870, and in 1882 a medallion portrait of him was unveiled in Westminster abbey.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, Dec. 14—Most of us who live in the mid-town sections of New York spend our working hours high up in the air. We catch faint echoes of the city rumbling in turmoil. We look down from our aerie and see autos resembling beetles and humans resembling ants scurrying in all directions.

The daily vista of jagged sky-scrapers would seem to be rather uninteresting. And yet there are fleeting bits of continuous drama from every window. There is the pert little stenographer across the way—two floors down—who often kisses the boss on his bald head as she passes his chair.

In a tailoring establishment during the noon lull is the dice game held in a partitioned booth and the look-out who watches out the window for the employer to round the corner. And the dignified executive who goes into the stock room at the same hour to practice on a harp.

And the dentist who gives gas, extracts the offending molar and reads a magazine until his patient comes back to consciousness—often in hysterics. And there is that Oriental look on individual who comes to a window and salaams gravely toward the descending sun.

One begins to watch with fascination for the weekly visits of those intrepid window cleaners who, strapped to slender hooks, chat and whistle at their perilous tasks. We see new employes come, old employes go in the shifting panorama and yet all remain strangers.

There are skyscraper flirtations—daily waves and smiles across the canyons. These, too, are among people who rarely meet. Although separated by the width of a street, they are as apart as the poles. We see troubled men sitting at their desks until far into the night.

There is that fellow who drags himself with crutches across a roof to a little glass enclosure to attend his pots of flowers—probably the only touch of romance in a colorless life. Somehow those who labor among the roof tops feel the invisible clasp of friendship.

Nearly all the quaint, old-fashioned notions have been knocked out of me, but I cleave to the idea ladies should wait until they reach their quarters before lighting up. I may be old-fashioned, but until I came to New York the only ladies who smoked cigarets were those who lived in shuttered houses across the railroad tracks and came to town in closed cabs. Now look at 'em!

High brown strutters in the Harlem black belt hold an evening promenade around 5 o'clock similar to that of Fifth avenue. The Lulu Belles and the chocolate sheiks turn out in tony togs and offer a parade that is dazzling. There are spats, canes and monocles among the fripperics. Today's Events.

Wednesday, December 14, 1927.

On this date in 1799 died George Washington, first president of the United States.

Prominent speakers are to be heard tonight at the forty-second annual dinner of the Southern Society of New York, to be held at the Waldorf-Astoria.

The political education work of the National civic federation is to be discussed at the annual meeting of that organization opened today in New York City.

The anti-prohibition forces of Pennsylvania are holding a state convention at Allentown today to plan a campaign for the election of "wets" to public offices.

Representatives of seven southern states are conferring in Washington today on plans for the rural development of the South along scientific lines which have proved successful in Europe and Australia.

Legislation to bring all boxing promoters, boxers and managers under control of the National Boxing association will be urged at the annual convention of that organization being held in Toledo.

"Yes, he was a great writer. I notice they are printing his posthumous works now."

"What are posthumous works, pa?"

"Er—what we wouldn't buy when he was alive."

"A man in your position must be careful not to say too much."

"Of course," answered Senator Sorghum. "The ideal position for a statesman is one so exalted that the longest speech he is personally obliged to make is 'howdydo!'"

Annual Christmas Theater Party For Kiddies Set Saturday by Delphians

PLANS have been completed for the annual children's theater party at the Grand, Marion, Orpheum and Oakland Theaters, Saturday morning, sponsored by members of the Delphian Club, it was announced today by Mrs. Lulu Merchant, president of the club.

Children of the grades in the city and parochial schools will be guests and also will contribute their bit to charity by using as the price of admission to the theater two articles of clothing, food or toys. Proceeds of the four shows as in former years will be contributed to needy families of the city for Christmas, members of the club receiving the privilege of preparing baskets for familes designated by them and the remainder to be distributed through the Salvation Army and Red Cross Chapter. The articles will be collected at the various theaters and then taken to the armory for distribution.

Start At 10 O'clock

The shows at all the theaters will begin promptly at 10 o'clock Saturday morning and will be in charge of members of the club. At the Marion and Oakland Theaters a special showing of "Wizard of Oz," will be given featuring Larry Semon and also a short comedy reel. "Our Gang" comedies will be shown at the Grand and Orpheum houses with a special vaudeville act and a feature play. The shows as well as the use of the houses are donated by the Marion Photo-Play Co. Music at the Grand will be furnished by Mrs. Murray Powers and at the Marion by Mrs. Anita Wickerser, while at the other two houses the regular musicians will be in charge.

Mrs. R. G. Cheney is chairman of the committee in charge of the work of caring for the contributions at the Marion Theater, assisted by Mrs. Grover Snyder. Mrs. Lester Houghtaling, Mrs. Lewis Uhl and Mrs. A. B. Lawson. Mrs. V. Gordon Stair, chairman of the committee at the Grand will be assisted by Mrs. Carl Watrous, Mrs. J. C. Cheney, Mrs. W. S. Anderson, and Mrs E. W. Warwick, while at the Orpheum Mrs. Lulu Merchant will be chairman, assisted by Mrs. G. F. Larie, Mrs. J. B. Hoagland, Mrs. D. H. Lincoln and Mrs. O. G. Briggs. Mrs. H. L. Brobeck, chairman of the committee stationed at the Oakland theater, will be assisted by Mrs. L. T. Young, Mrs. Frank Jeffers, Mrs. C. V. Hudson and Mrs. Frank Detwiler.

INDIGESTION SPOILS YOUR LIFE

How to End Stomach Troubles

Although indigestion may not be chronic with many people, it is surprising how even slight pains or feelings of fullness after eating steal much of life's sparkle and happiness. Perhaps you scarcely notice it in the early stages, but remember indigestion never cures itself and usually gets worse. Be on your guard then.

The safest, surest and easiest way to end indigestion, heartburn or flatulence is to take a little "Pape's Diapepsin" after meals or whenever plain is felt. This quickly stops your discomfort by neutralizing excess stomach acid and preventing fermentation, and at the same time sooths, heals and strengthens your delicate stomach lining.

Get a 60-cent package of "Pape's Diapepsin" today—every druggist sells and recommends it, as a sure remedy for stomach troubles. Don't let indigestion spoil your life—you can't have stomach troubles and "Pape's Diapepsin" too!—Adv.

AUTO TAG SALES IN CITY SLOW, REPORT

Deputy Registrar Says Many Will Be Unable To Drive If Apathy Continues

Marion County motorists continue to show a reluctancy toward purchasing their 1928 license tags that will result in many not getting tags until after the first of the year or taking part in a grand rush during the last few days of this month.

Members of the Marion Auto club who are being issued their tags at the club office at the Harding hotel are more prompt in obtaining license plates than non-members, who are being served at the temporary office adjoining Hotel Marion, it was announced by Mrs. D. V. Gallagher, deputy state registrar, today.

Unless there are more tags issued, the rush during the latter part of the month, will be such that many will not be able to obtain them in time to have them on their cars on New Year's day.

The fact that there will not be an extension of time this year, it is believed, will make the late comers all the more anxious to obtain their numbers before the first of the year.

Night Coughs Quickly Relieved

Stopped in 15 Minutes with Thoxine

Most coughing is caused by an irritated, inflamed throat or bronchial tubes which cough syrups and patent medicines do not touch. But a famous physician's prescription recently discovered called Thoxine goes direct to the cause, relieves the inflamed membranes and stops the cough almost instantly. One swallow does the work, and the remarkable thing about it is that it contains no dope, chloroform or other harmful drugs. Pleasant tasting. Safe for children. Once used the whole family will rely on it. 35c., 60c. and $1.00. Bradley's Drug Store and all good druggists.—Adv.

Dora can't come!

Today, and every day, a lot of women count their time to suffer. As regularly as the months come 'round, comes pain that is borne in silence. "It's Nature," women say. But it isn't!"

Women who have always had the hardest time, have no pain at all from the day they discover Midol.

Midol is the special preparation of specialists, and is not a narcotic. It does nothing to the menstrual process. It does stop the pain—in five to seven minutes! So it is only common sense to use it. And it costs just fifty cents, at any drugstore in tiny carrying case of aluminum.—Adv.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back its Color and Lustre with Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, for only 75 cents, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth' Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.—Adv.

BENEFIT EUCHRE

Council Members Choose Officers in Brief Session

Election of officers was held at the business meeting which preceded a benefit euchre party given by members of Mary A. Canfield Council, No. 210, Daughters of America, last night at Junior Order Hall, W. Center-st. Mrs. Mary Frost was elected junior past councilor; Mrs. Addie Johnson, associate junior past councilor; Mrs. Bertha Anthony, councilor; and Mrs. Anna Holliday, associate councilor.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Edna Welch, vice councilor; Mrs. Elva Sutton, associate vice councilor; Mrs. Effie Thompson, recording secretary; Mrs. Maude Clark, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Minnie Fox, financial secretary; Mrs. Gera Griffith, treasurer; Mrs. Lena Phillips, conductor; Mrs. Hazel Smith, warden; Mrs. Elsie Williams, inside sentinel; Mrs. Emily Cook, outside sentinel; Mrs. Fannie Graves, trustee for 18 months; Mrs. Lillian Griffith, musician; and Mrs. Laura Stover, captain.

Plans were made for a Christmas exchange and benefit card party at the next meeting, Dec. 27 at the hall. Honors at cards last night were awarded Mrs. Fred Scherff and Charles McCombs while Mrs. Wesley Cook and Earl Johnson were consoled. A three-course lunch was served. A neat sum was realized from the party.

LOSERS ENTERTAIN

Play Presented at Banquet at Central Christian Church

Members of the Loyal Sons Class of Central Christian Church were banqueted there last night by members of the Ruth Circle Class, the losers in a Bible reading contest. A feature of the entertainment was presentation of a play, "And the Lamps Went Out" by Misses Ethel Piersol, Lucile Crock, Mildred Clark, Mildred Hollandshead, and Miss Elma Rubins, who read the selection.

Miss Zantha Hadlick, president of the Ruth Circle Class, made the toast to the guests and Kenneth Clutter responded. Mrs. George Mayer, teacher of the girls' class, gave a second toast to which Ollie Schneider, the boys' president, responded. Rev. George E. Groves, pastor of the church, was heard in a short talk after which Misses Rubins and Mildred Hollandshead entertained with a ukelele duet.

TEMPERANCE GROUP WILL CONTRIBUTE TO CHARITY

Mrs. Minnie Fetter was entertained as a guest at the meeting of members of Florence Richards, W. C. T. U. yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Minnie Hoover, 218 Olney-av. A Christmas program was enjoyed by members of Lillian Stevens, W. C. T. U. at their regular monthly meeting last night at the home of Mrs. H. R. Abbott, 851 E. Center-st. The program opened with the singing of "Joy to the World" and with devotionals in charge of Mrs. John Crissinger. Two delightful vocal numbers, "If I Were Just Your Rose" and "Silent Night, Holy Night" were sung by Miss Beatrice Young. Mrs. John Newby gave a paper, "Philosophy of Tolerance" and Mrs. H. Grove read the poem, "Christmas Shopping," by Margaret Sangster. A reading, "The Star of Bethlehem," was given by Miss Nyla Miller and Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence was heard in a piano number. Mrs. John Stafford, president, was in charge of the program.

A dainty luncheon was served by Mrs. Abbott and the assistant hostesses, Mrs. Josephus Monnette and Mr. John M. Miller. During the business session it was announced that members of the Lillian Stevens Union would participate in a County W. C. T. U. rummage sale to be held after the holidays.

Guests of the society were Mrs. John Abbott and daughter, Marilyn, Misses Beatrice Young, Nyla Miller and Dorothy Newby, Dr. M. B. Newhouse and H. B. Abbott. The union will meet Jan. 10 with Mrs. Mary Blair as hostess at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. J. Lehner, Oak Grove-av.

The Story of a Girl Who Tried To Cheat Love

BY GILBERT ROGERS

CHAPTER XVII

N o'clock, and a grey morning, rain dripping from the eaves, the leaves of the trees outside dow glistening with wetness. gazed solemnly at the phone on the bed-table within Just a black stalk of hard rubtle metal, and cloth and wire. o'clock would be here, and at that phone would become would carry Jerry Evesham's sentimental, being sentimenthe way—it was fun, though didn't ever tell anyone what ought or felt. She loitered breakfast. Mrs. Brooke came , and was cross and gave her answers. Oh well, just a mood. was determinedly meek.

Sherlin was gone again. He'd midnight to drive on a clear back to town, to drive all night. sudden comings and goings, this hurried and intense business, the business itself shrouded in what did it all mean? But at he was gone, would be gone for week. Sally breathed easier , knowing that.

She wandered through the delicate house, looking at things with sense of sad pleasure. She would to-day to them so soon, these fragile things, this exquisite life one had only to ask to be You dropped a handkerchief. servant restored it.

You read on the window seat, and books and magazines where they knowing invisible fingers would them. You returned to find bedroom fresh and sweet, with laid out, others taken for pressor care. You went to meals, never what new special thing would served from the kitchen. You hadn't enough time for all the pleasures the day held for you.

And thinking of these things, Sally felt that the miracle was not that she was turning her back on them for something definite, something certain. She was turning her back on them on the mere chance that Jerry Evesham might care enough. . . . If he didn't, well she didn't want anything at all then.

Five minutes, four minutes of 10, 10 itself. She stared at the phone, her chin in her hands, her big eyes worried. Obstinately the phone gave no sign or sound. It stood there mocking her.

He had forgotten! He didn't care at all. She was throwing away everything for a man who didn't care at all. He'd said things, looked things, and he had believed . . . oh, what hadn't she believed. . . . The phone rang.

He'd made her suffer. She thought: "I'll show him I don't care. I'll pretend I'm a maid, and say I'm not in." She said:

"Jerry, why didn't you call me before?"

"You mean you really wanted me to?"

"Yes. No. That is, I was planning to go out. You see . . . well, you're made me late."

"Then if you're late, it doesn't matter. I want to see you . . . I've been thinking. I'll stop around for you."

"But it's raining."

"It is? Well let it rain. Come on!"

There were things to wear, special, gay things, waterproofed silk, a steamer hat that took on any shape you wanted, and all of them nice, high, soft moccasin boots—just the thing if you go fishing, Madam," the salesman had said.

She threw herself into them feeling like a man, only not forgetting to snatch up a powder compact at the last moment and drop that into her pockets. She looked at herself in the long mirror, her black hair like a wing under the shadow of the soft hat, her arms thrust into a vivid scarlet coat, and her lips parted, smiling, smiling at life, loving everyone, everything.

"My dear Sally, where are you going. Out? Out?. On a day like this . . . A boy you met? What boy? Don't be mysterious—I can't stand mystery."

"I'll tell you everything—later—for there he is!"

She whipped open the door, and ran down the steps. The ancient Ford, sitting high in the air, rocked under its own emotion and Jerry's eyes under the peak of his wet cap, met hers.

He held the door open. She was sitting next to him. With a dizzy lurch they were off, off into the wide sweep of Bellevue, threading their way through the narrow business streets of the New England city, out into a broad, deserted landscape swept by fine rain.

"Where are we going?"

"I don't know."

"Don't you? But you're driving like the wind."

"Anyone who could drive this car like the wind gets a platinum medal. I'm kidnapping you, running off with you for the day, and if you try to jump out, you'll break a leg. You see I—had to see you. Are you angry?"

"No," said Sally. "I'm not angry. But I do wish you'd go slower, because I won't jump out".

Their eyes met in a smile.

"Why did you laugh?" he asked.

"I don't know . . . why did you?"

The rain beat on them, but the earth sent up a fresh, sweet smell, and the air itself was sweet. Fun being with him, fun being with a man who wanted to be with you so much he was willing to kidnap you for the day. Fun being with a man who drove as fast as he could without a destination. Sally's heart sang. She knew she was happy, and that she could never be any happier than now, at this golden instant.

Off the state road, they wandered into the real country, and the rain ceased. He slowed down in a village street.

"I'm starving." Nothing in sight but an owl wagon. "Let's try that."

The interior was smoky and Sally sat on a hard little stool that wobbled. "Ham and beans . . . ham and . . ." A fat man in a white apron forked slabs of pie on white plates, poured steaming mugs of coffee.

"Do you mind—do you mind this place?"

"Mind?" Sally said. "Catch me eating anywhere else. Wonderful food. I want some more clam chowder!"

Then they strolled, talking together, about nothing, about everything, staring and being stared at, until they came to the last of the houses and crossed a meadow and came to a fence. He lifted her over, but he did not release her.

"I'm mad about you," he said thickly. "I never wanted money before. Now I've got to have it, got to have it!"

"Why?" Sally was trembling.

"For you, of course. Because I'm going to have you. I don't care what you say—"

"I haven't said anything."

He kissed her then, and she shut her eyes, and he kissed each shut eyelid. The tones of his voice now, so low and deep and tender—she loved his voice now. She loved everything that was his, or of him.

"I love you. . . . Do you love me?"

"You know I do."

"But you don't love me, as much as I love you," he declared.

She laughed softly, suddenly, impulsively, put her cheek against his. "I love you so much that anything you say or think or do I believe is right. When did you love me?"

"All my life."

"But we met scarcely two weeks ago."

"I know, but I wasn't alive until I met you." He put his arm around her more tightly. "Listen, I've got to go to New York—right away—for about a week. I'll be back as soon as I can. I want to see if I can land a better job. It'll have to be South America—for a year, I'm afraid. Would you go there with me?"

She answered him with a look, her heart in her eyes. Then she said: "You don't need any better job. I've something to tell you. I—I haven't any money. Not anything at all."

But—the house you're staying at—the things you wear—"

"Not mine. Nothing's mine. I—I can't tell you now. You see I was someone else two weeks ago. I couldn't do now what I did then. You've made me—yes, different!"

He stared at her, puzzled. Then all at once he drew her tigher in his arms. "Well, I'll try to get that job just the same. When I come back next week, you've got to tell me everything about yourself, Sally—everything! Because you belong to me now—for good."

Like an ugly thought there came into Sally's mind the name of Adrian Martin, the man Dan Shevlin wanted her to meet. She drove it angrily out of head, but the impression remained like a dark cloud in a summer sky.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Humorous Boyhood Adventure

This morning right after the middle of the night I heard someone with a flat wheel coming up the stairs, and Jubilee wiggled out from under the comforters and ducked under the bed, and then someone in the dark said, "Wake up, Grand." And it was my grandfather, and when I told him I was awake he said to get up and dress and come down, so he went down then, and I got up and let Jubilee down and dressed and he was waiting for me and we started out across the city, and everything was white with snow, and still except when a dog barked a long ways off, and then it began to snow, and when we got pretty near to the newspaper office we came to a policeman, and my grandfather said, "Hello, Tom," and the policeman said "Hello, Judge" to my grandfather, and then he came along with us, and the paper wasn't off the press yet, and a number of flivvers were standing there with their engines running to keep them warm, and the boys were inside where it was warm, and I pointed to a flivver and said that was the one, and the policemen had us sneak up on the side and climb in and sit down on the back seat without anyone seeing us.

We hadn't been there long when the boys beagn pouring out and running in very direction with their arms full of papers, and there was three bundles chucked in our flivver and then three kids jumped in the front seat and away we went. When we got around the corner the policeman reached out with his club and gave the kid that was driving a poke in the back, and he looked around just as we were passing a light and almost wrecked the flivver before he got it stopped, and the copper grabbed the one at the wheel and my grandfather got hold of the other two. The policeman said "You robbed this boy of his papers and sold them Sunday. Dig up." And the driver took all the money he had and got some from the other kids until they had four dollars, and then he said they were only joking with us.

The policeman told them to carry the joke a little further and take us to where they had the wagon the papers part of the city and pulled the wagon out from under a little shanty, and then the policeman made them take us home. And when we had got out and they had went, my grandfather gave the policeman two dollars and me two dollars, and thanked the policeman. And we went in and I went upstairs and crawled in with my clothes on for the rest of the night. My grandfather is a smart man. I don't know which I would rather be when I grow up, a policeman or a grandfather.

Love's Embers

A Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

Veritzen Seeks Madge's Aid

I was too astonished at Philip Veritzen's statement concerning Eleanor Lincoln's dramatic ability to do more than stare frankly at him. But Lillian's tongue knows no inhibition.

"For cluttering up the waste basket, Phil," she ejaculated, "what are you handing out? You can't permit Eleanor Lincoln to go on the stage, although you admit that she has beauty and talent enough to do so. What are you contemplating, lad? A matrimonial adventure with the lady? I can understand your objections then. The caveman wants wifey to shine only among the stalactites of the home grotto. But Phil, my boy, take the word of one who has loved you long, faithfully and hopelessly, she's over young for you, me lad, o'er young."

Mr. Veritzen lifted his head arrogantly, frowned portentously, then relaxed into laughter.

"I wish I had strength of mind enough to give you the beating you deserve," he said.

"You mean strength of arm," Lillian retorted. "I'll match you in a wrestling match any day."

"Don't try me too far," he threatened, "and please stop your nonsense, if you can, while I tell you what I want you both to do for me."

"Pax!" Lillian said, holding up her hand, and Mr. Veritzen went on.

"I have told Miss Lincoln that the first requisite of dramatic training is a thorough knowledge of the history and background of the drama," he said, and I felt my pulses quicken with a realization of what was coming. "I have also told her that you," inclining my head toward me, "are second to no one of my knowledge in your grasp of the subject, and that your years of teaching experience will make your instruction of her especially valuable. She is extremely anxious to begin studying with you at once, and I am here to beg that you will undertake the task."

He stopped and looked at me inquiringly, but I was incapable of reply. The proposition was so bizarre that I did not know what to say to him. For, reading between the lines, I knew that what he really meant me to do was to use all the adroitness I possessed to discourage Eleanor Lincoln in her stage ambitions.

Lillian came to my rescue with her usual impudence.

"What you really mean," she said, "is to have Madge turn herself into a martinet so deadly that she'll incur the girl's deadly enmity, tire her out and completely disgust her with a stage career. It's a wonderful scheme, oh, Foxy Phil, and we'll waive all inquiries as to why you're doing it. You surely don't expect her to count a stunt like that as one of the regular assignments of her job, do you? Or is Miss Lincoln going to——"

"Lillian!" I interrupted in an agony of protest, wondering at her apparent crassness. "Surely, Mr. Veritzen cannot mean that Miss Lincoln expects to pay me. I could accept nothing from her for teaching her."

I did not know why every fibre in me was in revolt at the idea of receiving pay for a service to Eleanor Lincoln. Then, with a flash of enlightenment, I realized that it was because of Dicky's openly expressed interest in the young chatelaine of The Larches. I had no objection to being paid for my teaching, but I could not accept money from a girl whom my husband so flamboyantly admired. — Copyright, 1927, Newspaper Features Service, Inc.

"Only a Sore Throat"

Don't ever underestimate the danger of a sore throat; if neglected, it may develop into something serious—as many know to their sorrow.

The same goes for a cold; pneumonia at this time of the year is your great enemy.

At the first sign of cold or throat irritation, use Listerine full strength as a gargle. Keep it up systematically.

Being antiseptic, it immediately attacks the countless disease-producing bacteria in mouth and throat, and halts many an ailment before it becomes dangerous.

During winter weather, when you are usually subjected to poor air and sharp changes in temperature, it's a good idea to use Listerine every day as mouth wash and gargle.

This pleasant and easy precaution may spare you a trying and painful siege of illness. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

U. S. Has Nearly One-Third of World's "Hard Cash"

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14—The United States has nearly one-third of all the "hard cash" in the world.

Out of $13,851,000,000 gold and silver coinage in existence, $5,300,000,00 is in this country, the Treasury announced today.

Six countries have more paper money than United States—France, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Italy, Rumania and Yugoslavia although its unit value is only a fraction of that of the American dollar.

The banking power of the country is approximately $68,000,000,000. Latest figures show the resources of 23 principal banks of issue in foreign counties to be $11,568,000,000. The Federal Reserve banks, most nearly comparable to the bankes of issue aboard have total resources of about $5,200,000,000.

India has more silver than any other nation with $1,052,000,000 compared to the American silver stock of $856,290,000.

Apparently the poorest country in the world is Sarawak, a small island of 600 population, where the natives average wealth is one-tenth of one cent in paper money. There is neither gold nor silver in this country.

U. S. TRANSPORTATION RECORD IS NOT BAD

Careful Survey of Conditions Made, Passenger, Freight Traffic Slump

BY W. S. COUSINS
I. N. S. Financial Editor

New York, Dec. 14 — Considerable importance has been attached to the decline in railroad earnings in the fourth quarter of the year as an evidence of, and an important factor in, the mild depression in American business in 1927.

A careful survey of transportation conditions, made for International News Service by R. H. Aishton, president of the American Railway Association, shows that revenue car-loadings and ton-miles for the year will be only about two per cent less than the totals for the year 1926. Considering that the comparison is made with an usually active and prosperous year, the record for American transportation is not nearly as bad as it appears in various presentations.

"Railway freight traffic during the first half of 1927 ran at a higher rate than ever before" said Mr. Aishton today. His records show, however, that the "turn" came in June, and from that time on the freight traffic was not only consistently below that for 1926, but the tendency was for the rate of decrease to grow in amount as the year went on.

Below Previous Year

"Passenger traffic was consistently below the previous year, the number of passenger-miles for the year 1927 being from four to five per cent below those for 1926," Mr. Aishton declared.

"This improvement, since the close of the war, in railway service, has been so important a contribution to the economic welfare of the United States that it has been termed an economic revolution — a silent and bloodless revolution it is true, but none the less a fundamental change in conditions that has played a mighty part in maintaining stable economic conditions throughout the whole nation.

"The railways look forward with courage and with hope to the future. They believe they have contributed in no small measure to the prosperity and progress of the country.

"They offer a continuation of the adequate transportation service to which they have pledged their properties and their effort. They look forward with confidence to the continued economic progress of the United States, and to a continuation of their part in that progress."

Marion Star Bureau
Ohio State University

Columbus, Dec. 14—A varsity "O," an award given to members of athletic teams at Ohio State University, has been presented to Charles M. Schoenlaub, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Schoenlaub, of S. Prospect-st. Marion, for his work on the Buckeye soccer squad during the past season.

Soccer was made a minor sport at Ohio State for the first time this year and Schoenlaub was one of three students who were awarded letters. Only seniors are give recognition by the athletic board in a minor sport.

Schoenlaub played left fullback on the Buckeye team which defeated Illinois soccer team, several weeks ago. He is enrolled in the College of Engineering.

VEL FILMS ARE VIEWED BY LODGE

ts of Columbus View Mo- on Picture Scenes of Local Plant

pictures portraying manu- and operation of the various r excavating machines made by the Marion Steam Shovel Co., were shown at a meeting of Marion Council No. 671, Knights of Columbus, held at the lodge hall on E. Center-st last night.

The pictures, which include views of practically all departments in the local factory and also scenes showing shovels at work in mining, quarrying and other excavating operations, were completed recently for use in connection with the company's sales and publicity program. The film is intended primarily for showing in foreign countries to promote export sales but will also be exhibited to some extent in this country.

It was reported today that plans are now under way to run the pictures at one of the local theaters in the near future.

The showing at the Knights of Columbus meeting was in charge of Fred Ellery, photographer for the Marion Steam Shovel Co. It was the chief feature of a social session which followed the regular semi-monthly business meeting of the lodge.

During the business session, preliminary plans were discussed for the annual state convention of the Knights of Columbus, to be held here in May. Plans are in charge of a committee headed by L. A. Axe as chairman.

R. P. Murphy, chairman of a committee appointed to plan a membership campaign, announced preliminary arrangements for a program to be definitely outlined within the next few weeks.

MARION RESIDENTS DESIGNATED HEIRS

Four Here To Receive Bequests from Estate, Court Decides

Four Marion residents are named as heirs of two estates in decisions given in Franklin County probate court at Columbus yesterday, a report received from there today states.

Under decision of the court William J. Carlisle and Mrs. William Spath will share the estate of their father, Gideon Carlisle, who died at the Spath home, 318 E. Farming-st, on Nov. 26. The estate is appraised at $5,200. Mr. Carlisle, who was 77 years of age, was a former resident of Marion but had lived in Columbus during the last few years.

The other court ruling names Mrs. Mabel Dominy and Mrs. Maude Jennings of this city as heirs of the $2,500 estate of Jacob Carey, who formerly resided near Hilliards, O.

STIMSON IS NAMED ISLANDS GOVERNOR

Coolidge Appoints Former Cabinet Officer as Successor to Wood

Washington, Dec. 14 — President Coolidge appointed Henry L. Stimson, secretary of war in the cabinet of President Taft, to be the new governor general of the Philippines, succeeding the late Gen. Leonard Wood.

The appointment of the former cabinet officer came somewhat as a surprise to the politicians, who had been speculating upon Carmi Thompson of Ohio or W. Cameron Forbes, the former governor of the islands, who was a recent house guest of Mr. Coolidge.

Stimson's previous service to the Coolidge administration has been as the president's personal envoy to Nicaragua, where he investigated the causes of the recent disturbances there and evolved a "peace plan" which has put the little republic virtually under an American protectorate.

Stimson's home is in New York. He is a lawyer by profession.

PACIFICATION OF NICARAGUA TOUGH

Washington, Dec. 14—Pacification of Nicaragua is proving about the hardest job the United States Marines have ever tackled. Despite the optimistic statements issued from time to time by State and Navy Department officials, the northern half of the Central American republic is still, after a seven-month campaign, seething with insurgency and general disorder.

To date the pacification has cost the lives of more than 800 Nicaraguans, according to figures compiled today from official reports, while several hundred others have been seriously wounded in clashes with the American interventionists and native guards. In the last month there have been at least 86 known deaths among the natives.

Based on announcements by the marine command in Managua, and by officials here, minimum casualty figures show 714 Nicaraguans to have been slain, 192 killed or wounded and 220 wounded in the period from May 15 to Dec. 11. At the same time seven marines and six native guardsmen have been killed and two marines wounded.

DEC. 31 LAST DAY FOR COMPENSATION

Legion Officers Urging World War Veterans To Take Advantage of Offer

With Dec. 31 designated as the final date of the period allowed World War veterans for filing applications for federal adjusted compensation certificates to which they are entitled under act of Congress, local officers of the American Legion today urged prompt action by any ex-service men who have neglected filing their claims up to this time.

After Dec. 31, it is pointed out, all veterans who have failed to send in their applications will forfeit their right to the insurance.

Although no definite record is available it is believed that a large number of Marion County veterans have neglected to take advantage of the government insurance plan.

Several weeks ago officers of Bird-McGinnis Post, No. 102 of the American Legion announced that their organization would assist ex-service men in every possible way in making out their applications and having them forwarded to the U. S. Veterans' Bureau. Since then, comparatively few have taken advantage of the service, it was reported today.

Howard in Charge

Charles Howard, named as service officer of Bird-McGinnis Post, is in charge of the work of assisting veterans in filing their applications. He stated today that application blanks may be obtained from him, any other officer of the Legion or at Red Cross headquarters.

A report issued recently at state headquarters of the Legion showed that on Aug. 31, 3,216,831 veterans had received adjusted service certificates amounting to $3,200,423,540.

The same report disclosed that there were still several hundred thousand veterans eligible to receive certificates who had not applied for them up to Aug. 31.

Isaly Dairies Trounce Kenyon, 37 to 29 For First Win of Season

Locals Show Best Form Of Year Against Fast College Team; Penry Shines

Visitors Lead During Most of Contest, but Spurt in last Period Puts Game on Ice for Dairies; Bliss College Here Next Week

BY TOM BUCHANAN
Sports Editor of The Star

PLAYING the best brand of basketball they have exhibited this season the Isaly Dairy cage team checked up its first victory of the year by defeating the Kenyon College aggregation, 37 to 29 on the Star floor.

Trailing 13 to 21 at the half the Dairies went into the lead about the middle of the last frame when Minard, Penry and Griffin went on a scoring spree. The Kenyonites held the lead throughout the first half, with the exception of a few minutes, and continued to lead until the Isaly spurt near the middle of the last half.

Dairies Take Lead

Kenyon used 10 men in an effort to check the Dairies. The first scoring in the second half came on Minard's throw from the foul line which made the score 21 to 11 with Kenyon out in front. Applegett and Griffin collected one each and a moment later Kenyon made it 23 to 18. Griffin's long shot from the center of the floor, another by Penry immediately after, and Applegett's foul tied the score at 23 all. From that time on the Dairies never left the lead.

Only for a few minutes in the first quarter did the locals nose the Kenyon outfit out of first place on the score book. The visitors collected six points before the Dairies could get going. In quick succession the score was tied at 7, 9, and a Isaly lever at 13 but the visitors had an eight point lead when the half ended.

Muir, speedy right forward, and Johnson, lanky center, were the best the Kenyon team had on the floor. Muir was a fast dribbler and a good shot. Johnson, while in only part of the game tied Muir and Putnam for scoring honors.

Scoring honors for the Dairies went to Penry with 14 points, Minard with 11, and Griffin with 7.

Bliss Business College, Columbus, will be here next week.

Kenton Reds Beat Kinnears After Near Riot on Floor

KENTON, Dec. 14—In a contest fiercely fought and featured by a near free-for-all fight, the Kenton Reds last night downed the Columbus Kinnear's crack professional outfit, 35 to 32.

The near fight developed when Shea, Kinnear guard, shot a right hook at Hinklin, Marion referee, as argument over a foul became too strong for words. Many of the fans poured onto the floor but before further trouble developed, Shea was ordered from the game.

Despite the fact that the Columbus club was considered far superior to the Reds, they were unable to break through the local's unusual defense when the necessity arose and dropped the game in the last few minutes of play.

The first period opened with the Kinnears walking away with the Reds. The score at this point of the game was 14 to 6. The Reds cut down this lead in the second period and at the end of the half the Columbus cagers were holding the lead by a mere four points, the score being 21 to 17.

In the second half the Reds continued to slice points off the lead with the score at the end of the third period standing 30 to 29, the Kinnears continuing to hold the edge. Carter for Kenton tied the score at 30 all and a basket and a foul goal placed the locals three points to the good. A basket by the Kinnears tightened up the race but before the whistle blew the Reds looped another for the final score.

NEW PROSPECT

Ted Sandwina, son of world's strongest woman, is expected to make his debut in the ring soon. If he succeeds as well at this as his mother has at her game, he will be a world beater.

TRICK CUE ARTIST TO PERFORM HERE

James G. Burton, of Wheeling, one of the most brilliant trick billiard shots in the country will give a demonstration at the Recreation Billiard parlors at 3 o'clock this afternoon and at 7 o'clock tonight. One of Burton's favorite shots is to pocket 14 balls with one shot.

TOMMY LOUGHRAN TO FIGHT LOMSKI

New Champ Pleases Fans by Fighting Early and Often

New York, Dec. 14—Tommy Loughran, now the undisputed light heavyweight champion, will break training only long enough to eat his Christmas dinner, for he has another important fight on his hands early next month.

Loughran is staying over here for a day or two at the request of promoters who are presenting him with a championship belt tomorrow night after a theatre party. He will then return to Philadelphia to train for his bout with Leo Lomski, western challenger, here on Jan. 6.

Loughran has endeared himself to the public by his willingness to defend his title early and often. Jimmy Slattery and Lomski are the two most dangerous challengers he could have drawn with and he is taking them on less than a month apart.

Lomski is generally regarded as a more serious threat than Slattery, for he is a tireless puncher and a wicked body punisher. Loughran drew down about $16,000 for his bout with Slattery—the best single night's take of his career. The Slattery partisans can take some consolation in the verdict of Referee Louis Magnolia. He voted "draw" but the judges, Charles F. Mathison and Tom Flynn, cast their ballots for Loughran. A return bout may be held in Buffalo.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

AT NEW YORK—Joe Sekyra, Boston, light heavyweight, won decision over George La Rocco, New York (10).

Billy Henry, Brooklyn Junior welterweight drew with Johnny Lawson, Grantwood, N. J., (6).

Walter Babcock, Jersey City junior lightweight, won decision over Maxie Rosen, New York (6).

Jacki Block outpointed Tony Brodock, Passaic, N. J., welterweight (4).

AT NEWARK, N. J.—Jack McVey, New York middleweight, awarded newspaper decision over Jean Mangeot (10).

AT READING, PA.—Sylvian Bas, Baltimore, kayoed Andy Allen, Minersville, Pa., in first round.

AT WINNIPEG, CAN.—Del Fontaine, middleweight champion of Canada, was conceded a newspaper decision over Wolcott Langford, Chicago negro (10).

AT LOS ANGELES—Charley Long, Omaha negro, middleweight, won decision over Bert Colima of Mexico (10).

Washington Senators Want George Sisler; Will Give Judge, Sam Rice in Trade

Deals Now Brewing May Prove To Be Greatest in Recent Years; Several Clubs Involved; Fate of Cobb and Speaker Yet Unsolved

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—Having put over what, in our elegant circles, is generally characterized as a fast one, "foxing" outfielder Heine Manush and first baseman Lu Blue from Detroit, Dan Howley was on the premises at the annual baseball League meeting today endeavoring to hawk the last of baseball's great trinity to the highest bidder. Cobb and Speaker, it would seem, have been more. Now George Sisler is ready to go on a long journey.

Two clubs, the Washington Senators and the Cleveland Indians and the Chicago White Sox, were understood to be engaging very dirty grimaces over a player who stepped off a campus at Princeton University some 10 years ago and came, pronto and without preparation, one of the three great names of modern times. Five years ago you couldn't have bought him for the entire Yankee club, with Uncle Robbie throwing in or thrown out, according to the way you might feel about that deal.

Want Sisler

Today, much of the Old Sisler had retired because eye trouble cut him down in the full flush of his career. Yet enough was still had enough left to cause three major clubs to go into a huddle for pad, pencil and pay roll.

As a result, it was rumored that Washington was willing to give up Joe Judge, first baseman, and Sam Rice, outfielder, for the privilege of George's society next season. The law only requires that you listen to this one; you don't have to believe it. However, it was pretty well admitted today that the Senators want Sisler and that Judge was on the market. Perhaps Howley and Stanley Harris will reach a basis of understanding. Perhaps not. If they don't, the player is certain to go to one of the other two clubs. The transaction, when closed, probably will furnish the big deal of the meeting, if not of recent years. They say there may be as many as seven players involved before the boys decide to close the book and call it a plot.

Perhaps a dozen other deals were on the fire today over a slow flame but whether they will come to a boil before Thursday night was an open question. However, it was no man's secret that Cleveland, Washington, St. Louis, Detroit and Chicago, of the American League, and Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Boston, of the National League, were here with the definite purpose of doing business in those poorly hired men of the pastime.

May Start Trouble

As to that, it was taken as fact, rather than fancy, that that deal of Manush and Blue versus Elam Van Gilder, pitcher; Harry Rice, outfielder, and the Masked Marvel, whose identity was yet to be divulged, might start all the boys in there swinging like a chance remark at a corner bar. It didn't take the Cardinals long, in any case, to follow with a trade of Jimmy Ring, pitcher, and John Schulte, catcher, for Jimmy Cooney, infielder; Johnny Mokan, outfielder, and Clarence Jonnard, catcher, hitherto the property of the Phillies.

OVER THREE THOUSAND RATS KILLED IN "WAR"

Ashley, Dec. 14—A war for the extermination of rats in the community of Shawtown and Westfield, near here, ended Saturday. A total of 3,247 rat tails were obtained during the war the past few weeks, which was lead by Ernest Knachel and Charles Ruggles, who were each captain of 50 men. Ernest Knachel's men were victorious in killing the greatest number of rats. The men will be banqueted with an oyster supper at an early date.

BIG SHAKEUP COMING IN NATIONAL TENNIS RANKS

President Jones W. Meseran of New York (upper left), may be ousted as head of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association at annual election. Rumor has it that Vice President Samuel H. Collom of Philadelphia (upper right center) will succeed him. New development is due to arbitrary methods of handling stars and tournaments, and is regarded as direct reaction to storm of criticism and rebuke aimed at Meseran particularly in the cases of Vincent Richards (left), Bill Tilden (lower right), and Mary K. Browne (upper right).

FORMER AKRON U. GRIDDER DIES

Akron, Dec. 14—When Joseph Schock, Akron University football captain of 1925, is laid to rest here in Mount Peace Cemetery, the ball which he carried as quarterback of a local semi-pro team, in a game five weeks ago, will be tucked under his arm.

The request was made by his parents, it was said.

Schock suffered injuries in the game which resulted in his death last Monday.

RIDGEWAY HIGH TEAM LOSES TO KENTON FIVE

Kenton, Dec. 14—Ridgeway high school dropped its second game to a Kenton team this season, when it was defeated 24 to 17 by the United Presbyterian church outfit at the Hardin County armory.

While the visitors used but two substitutes, the Kenton club utilized its second string men in the last quarter.

TO GIVE PLAY

Morral Students Will Present Comedy Drama

Morral, Dec. 14—"The Eyes of Love," a comedy-drama in three acts will be presented Thursday night at the high school auditorium.

The characters of the play are Caroline, "A Negro Servant," Lu Brown; Galiya, "An Adopted Daughter," Ethel Grantee; Reeta, "A Two Faced Friend," Leola Howe; Burt Wade, "Reeta's Brother," Marion Warner; Mrs. Barry, "Gay's Foster Mother," Helen Young; Lora, "A Lively Housemaid, Iris Richards; Clark, "A Busy Butler," Lawrence Young; Judge Barry, "Gay's Foster Father," Edd Hiller, Royal Manton, "Burt's Rival," Orvie Young; and Jim Rankin, "A Manacled Man," Charles Ferguson.

Reggie McNamara, who will compete in the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden this year, has won thirteen six-day races, which surpasses the record of any other rider.

EXPONENTS OF PRO GAME HERE

Followers of the cage game as it is played by professionals have a treat in store for tonight when the Buffalo Lincolns meet the Marion Eagles on the Star auditorium floor. With a constellation of former collegiate and scholastic stars the visitors are scheduled to arrive in town this afternoon to do battle with the locals. It will be the first real test for the Eagles.

The first game for the Eagles against the Reichenbach Fords of Columbus was a setup, but tonight the story should be different.

The game is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock and will be preceded by a preliminary between the Midway and Boyd teams.

RESERVES LOSE

Agosta High School Cagers Nose Out One Point Victory

The Harding High School Reserves dropped a game to the Agosta High School last night by a one point margin in the prelim to the Isaly Dairy-Kenyon College game. The final score was 15 to 14.

The Reserves were trailing during the last half and failed to completely overcome the Agosta lead.

TUNNEY TELLS CHICAGO ABOUT DEMPSEY AFFAIR

CHICAGO, Dec. 14—Gene Tunney was a new kind of hero today, after sat through ten rounds of after-dinner oratory at the All-Chicago Christmas fund banquet here last night without registering so much as a single unkind look. But it was all in the name of sweet charity, for which Mr. Tunney had graciously consented to be hoed.

That the heavyweight champion, featuring as the "guest of honor," was pet bored is a vain, was indicated when Chairman Anton J. Cermak announced that the banquet had netted $30,000 toward insuring a Merry Christmas for Chicago's poor. All of which proves there is a Santa Claus.

The dinner-jacketed Mr. Tunney was a strikingly different figure than the one who gathered himself up from a reused floor at Soldiers' Field last September after the famous "long count" and fought his way to victory over one Jack Dempsey.

Then, half naked, wounded and bay, Tunney was the eyesore of 150,000 pairs of eyes, two thirds of them unfriendly; last night, immaculate in formal clothes, he smiled and bowed, perfectly at ease, before 2,500 guests who were 100 per cent for Tunney.

And the champion had things to say about the fight. After what seemed an interminable orgy of speech making, Tunney was finally given the floor. He began with the usual line about Chicago's greatness and the greatness of its citizens, and then launched into what the banqueters were yearning to hear—a little spicy fight gossip.

Urbana Man Killed and Woman Hurt In Marysville Accident

HAVE NARROW ESCAPE IN CAR

Machine Slides Down Hill into Path of Locomotive

Kenton, Dec. 14—Setting helpless in their automobile and unable to stop it or alter its course as it skidded down hill into the path of an approaching train at a grade crossing, was the harrowing experience of two travelers as they neared Kenton yesterday.

And it was only through the presence of mind of the driver that the car was not ground beneath the wheels of the train and the two possibly killed.

The near tragedy occurred on the Harding Highway at the county infirmary hill a mile west of here, according to the story related by the tourist and his wife while taking lunch at the Kenner restaurant.

"Just as I approached the top of the hill I noticed the approaching train and attempted to stop," he said. "The car turned sidewise in the road and started slowly to skid toward the railroad crossing at the foot of the incline. Every effort to alter its course or to stop it was futile. We sat there helplessly until the machine reached the crossing and the train was bearing down upon us. Fortunately the rear wheel hit the rails first straightening the car out some. At least it enabled me to put on the gas clearing the tracks just as the locomotive sped past, missing us by a few scant inches."

Both tourists, whose names or residence were not learned, were suffering from shock when they stopped in this city.

Mrs. Elmer Bowman and Mrs. Ivan Hoppe, both of Kenton, were slightly injured early last evening when the machine in which they were riding, and a car, said to have been driven by I. Osborn of near Kenton, collided at the intersection of Franklin and Cherry-sts.

One of the women was pinned beneath the cars being released by persons arriving at the scene soon after.

125 Persons Attend Affair of Bucyrus Moose Lodge

Bucyrus, Dec. 14—One hundred and twenty-five persons attended the rabbit supper of the Moose Lodge at their hall, Monday night. Members of the lodge and the Women of Mooseheart Legion were present and the repast was served by the legion women. Music for the supper was furnished by an all-of-town colored band and surprise entertainment by Crawford, Bucyrus' only magician, who entertained the crowd with tricks and illusions. Chester Mock, of Toledo, past dictator of the lodge, who is in Bucyrus to help in the promotion of Harry Zilbeck, past Aides Worthy, present dictator, also spoke.

FARM BUREAU AGENT RESIGNS POSITION

U. F. Brunning, Mt. Gilead, Will Devote Time to Insurance Business

Mt. Gilead, Dec. 14—U. F. Brunning, Morrow County Farm Bureau agent for three years, has announced his intentions of resigning his post and, for the time being, devote his time to insurance. He will be succeeded by Ralph Barker, former superintendent of the Children's Home Farm at Lucas County. He was chosen at a meeting of the Farm Bureau executive board, Saturday night.

Mr. Brunning has a very good record while in service here and has been a willing adviser to local farmers. He is a member of the local Kiwanis Club and was prominent in several public services through the medium of this club.

MARTHA CLASS

Trinity Reformed Group Meets At George Good Home

Upper Sandusky, Dec. 14—Mrs. George Good, Mrs. Carl Adams and Mrs. William Switzer were hostesses of the Martha Class of the Trinity Reformed Church last night at the home of Mrs. Good. The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. Earl G. Newell and devotionals were led by Mrs. William Bahl. After a short business meeting the annual Christmas party was held and gifts were exchanged. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses.

DORIS J. COOK TAKES LEADING PART IN PLAY

Galion, Dec. 14—Doris J. Cook, associate member of the Drama Workshop Players of Galion had a leading character role in the all-campus play presented by dramatic students of Wittenberg College last night. The play was given in the Fairbanks Theater in Springfield and Miss Cook made a decided success of the difficult role she played. The play was a three-act comedy "Rolling Stones." Miss Cook is also scheduled to broadcast a group of readings from the college station, Friday afternoon.

GROVER C. SNYDER IS MADE HEAD ENGINEER

pose some of the engineers who work with legal matters employed by District No. 6. The rest of the state's highway improvement program was practically completed in Marion County, giving the people one of the best and most complete road systems in Ohio. The largest project was the Marion-Delaware road, extending between these two and the Delaware County line.

One of Five Heads

As chief of the bureau of maintenance the Marion man will be one of the five principal officials of the state highway department. The others are the highway director, chief engineer and chiefs of bridges and construction.

In addition to his service with the state department, Snyder served as deputy surveyor in Wyandot County from 1913 to 1917 and in Marion County from Dec., 1917, to Sept., 1923. Although a Democrat he served under county officials here representing both parties. They were W. E. Weston, Republican and L. B. Warner, Democrat.

District No. 6 which has been in charge of Snyder, comprises Marion, Morrow, Delaware, Union, Franklin, Madison, Pickaway and Fayette counties.

Appointment of his successor in the district engineer's office will probably be made before the close of this week.

WINS PRIZES

Hardin County Poultryman Takes Honors at Upper Sandusky

Kenton, Dec. 14—H. C. Althouser, prominent Pleasant Township farmer, was one of the big winners in the poultry show held recently in Upper Sandusky. He was one of the few Hardin County farmers having entries.

One of his prize exhibits was a S. C. Rhode Island Red cockerel, declared the best in the show. His entry list included the S. C. Rhode Island Reds.

Mr. Althouser, aside from winning 1st cockerel, took three and four in the pullet class, second best young pen, one color special and one shape special.

More than 300 birds were exhibited.

HOLD SERVICES FOR SAMANTHA J. BRADEN

Aged Woman Dies at Home of Son Near Galion

Galion, Dec. 14—Funeral services for Samantha J. Braden, 74, were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the Snyder Funeral Home with Rev. Mac Farland of the Ebenezer M. E. Church in charge. Following the services the body was taken to the mausoleum in Fairview Cemetery. Mrs. Braden died Monday morning at the home of her son, Glenn Braden, five miles southeast of Galion. Before her marriage to Herman C. Braden she was Samantha Smith, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Bloomingrove. She is survived by three sons, Earl R. Braden, Nankin; Orin Braden, Akron and Glenn of near Galion. Two sisters, Mrs. O. C. Mock, Cleveland and Mrs. S. R. Rauhauser of Marion also survive.

AT FLOOD STAGE

Scioto River Rises Rapidly Following Heavy Rains

Kenton, Dec. 14—Continued rainfall during the past three days caused the Scioto River to rise near the flood stage in some sections in Kenton last night and resulted in smaller streams overflowing their banks and inundating many acres of farm lands.

Back water also caused cellars to be flooded in all sections of the city. Little damage however, is reported and no families have been forced to vacate their homes.

The river was out of its banks on the Hepburn and Pfeiffer Station viaducts, east of here.

FORM NEW GRANGE

Marion Township Residents Organize Farm Club

The Progressive Grange, composed of residents of Marion Township was organized by S. B. Stowe, Pomona Master, and County Deputy J. F. Stiverson at the meeting of members of Grand Prairie Grange No. 2370, last night at the Grand Prairie School building. In spite of the inclement weather the meeting was largely attended.

A challenge from the Shrock Community Club to engage in a rat and sparrow hunt was accepted. The contest will close Feb. 2 at which time the losers will banquet the winner. The hunt will be in charge of a committee composed of F. E. Foos, S. B. Tester and Thomas Thew.

The grange charter was draped as a tribute to the late John Rexroth, a charter member of the organization. Plans were made for the next meeting Dec. 27 at which time a basket will be arranged for a needy family and the members will hold their annual Christmas exchange.

The Jordan has been accounted the most crooked stream in the world. But it cannot compare with White River, Arkansas, which travels 1,000 miles in traversing a distance of 30 miles.

DIVORCE PETITIONS FILED AT MT. GILEAD

Edna Perrin Plaintiff in Suit Against Husband, Ebur Perrin

Mt. Gilead, Dec. 14—Edna Perrin is seeking a divorce in the common pleas court here from Ebur Perrin, who she charges with gross neglect. She asked divorce and alimony. C. H. Wood is the attorney for the plaintiff.

Branson Goff has petitioned for a divorce from Alma Goff in the common pleas court. In his petition, he states they were married Dec. 16, 1902 and that eight children have been born. He charges that she deserted him, taking nearly all of the children, but later returned all, children but three. These have been taken care of by the county and she herself is in the Marysville reformatory for women according to the depositions of the petition. T. B. Mercer represents the plaintiff who seeks a divorce and custody of the children.

Emma J. McCormick filed a petition in quiet title against John Kline and others as the trustees of the Pleasant Grove Church of Christ. T. B. Mercer is the attorney for the plaintiff.

SANDUSKY RIVER IS HIGHEST SINCE 1913

Water 12 Feet Above Normal Level at Bucyrus; Houses Flooded

Bucyrus, Dec. 14—The Sandusky River here was at its highest stage since 1913 today with the water 12 feet above its normal level. In a number of houses furniture was moved from the first to the second floor and scores of cellars were flooded.

One block of Main-st was under about four feet of water while a section of N. Sandusky-st was submerged beneath about three feet of water. The whole length of Water-st was inundated and the north end residential section was cut off from the business section this morning, although the water has since been receding.

CHRISTMAS DINNER PLANNED BY MEMBERS

Upper Sandusky, Dec. 14—At the regular meeting of the Young Men's Club Tuesday night it was decided that each member of the club should get as Big Brother to some boy and bring him to the Christmas dinner next Monday night. There will be a grab bag which will contain a gift for each boy present and after the dinner there will be games and contests in the gym.

TIFFIN MEN ADDRESS UPPER SANDUSKY MEET

Upper Sandusky, Dec. 14—George Kalbfleisch, Tiffin, was speaker last night at a meeting of the board of directors of the Wyandot County Y. M. C. A. Kalbfleisch, who is member of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A., spoke on the work of the council in its home and foreign aspects. E. N. Hale, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Tiffin, was also present. Dinner was served at 6:30 to the directors and their guests.

PAY CHRISTMAS DEPOSITORS

Galion, Dec. 14—The sum of $61,288.10 has been paid out by five of the city's banks and building and loan companies to local holders of Christmas savings accounts. The amount is larger than any previously recorded here and bankers believe that it is a good sign of increasing thrift.

NAME WARDEN

L. E. Zerbe Chosen Dog Officer for Crawford County

Bucyrus, Dec. 14—L. E. Zerbe took office as dog warden for the year 1928 in Crawford county. He was selected from a list of three county commissioners at their meeting, Monday. His salary is $100 per month and seven cents of every dollar receipts from the dog license. He is under $1,000 bond for the faithful performance of his duties. The duty of the dog catcher consists mainly in the herding and rounding of stray dogs and the humane destruction of unclaimed ones.

BRANSON DE COU IS SPEAKER AT GALION

Scenes of South Sea Islands Shown as Part of Lecture

Galion, Dec. 14—Branson De Cou noted lecturer and traveler, entertained patrons of Galion Community Lyceum course last night with a fascinating travelogue. The program was given in the auditorium of the high school and was largely attended.

"South Sea Island Wonderlands" was the topic of De Cou's lecture and beautifully colored slides illustrated the entire talk. Scenes from all the South Sea Islands were shown and appropriate music was used throughout the entertainment. Last night's number was De Cou's second appearance in Galion and was made possible through the request of enthusiastic patrons of the local course. Last year, he gave a similar descriptive lecture "The Beauty of the Swiss Alps."

LUTHER LEAGUE

Prospect Group Entertained at Harry A. Lauer Home

Prospect, Dec. 14 — The Luther League of St. Pauls Lutheran Church, was pleasantly entertained Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Lauer. In the absence of the president, Paul Smith, Rev. C. H. S. Hunziker, presided at the business meeting, which opened with a song, "Come Hither Ye Faithful" followed by scripture reading and prayer. It was voted to send the offering to the Lutheran Home for Epileptic children at Arthur, N. Dak.

Officers for the new year were elected as follows: President, Paul Smith; secretary, Miss Dorothy Stiffler; treasurer, Mrs. Harry A. Lauer; reporter, Mrs. Edward F. Lauer; pianist, Miss Ruth Lauer. The meeting closed with a song, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and prayer.

During the social hour, Carl Seiter and Edward Lauer acted as magicians, entertaining with a few stunts. Miss Pauline Wyatt was the winner in a Christmas word contest, and Charles Kirby and his team were winners in a snow ball throwing contest, and the losing side captained by Miss Edna Almendinger, put on an amusing stunt.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Hunziker, and Mrs. Joe D. Almendinger, served refreshments, after which a gift exchange was enjoyed. Forty-seven members and guests were present. Out of town guests were Misses Edna and Marie Huggins and Vern Russel of Marion, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schilling of Parkersburg, W. Va.

E. C. SMITH, 40, CRASH VICTIM

Machine Breaks Off Light Pole After Skidding from Road

Marysville, Dec. 14—E. C. Smith, aged about 40 years, of Urbana was killed and his companion, Mrs. Theodore Jarvis aged 38 of Urbana was seriously injured, when the automobile in which they were riding skidded, left the road and struck a light pole, three miles east of Marysville, on the Marysville-Columbus-rd, late yesterday afternoon. The car a Nash sport coupe, was travelling at a high rate of speed when it left the road and struck the pole in two. The car was badly damaged. It was found that the automobile belonged to the woman, who was driving, from an auto license check.

Mrs. Jarvis suffered a fractured cheekbone and was badly cut about the face and body. She regained consciousness soon after being taken to the local hospital and was able to give the woman's name. Davis suffered a fracture of the skull, and was born his ear about the head.

No one witnessed the accident. The couple were discovered in the car in an unconscious condition by John Schaderee and Harry Palmer, service men for the Marysville Implement Co., who were returning home. The two men noticed that the car was wrecked, but failed to see the occupants until they got out of their car to make an examination of the wreck. The woman was found wedged under the dash of the car.

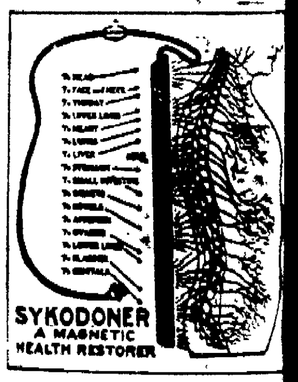
Dr. P. D. Longbrake, of Marysville was called to the scene, and the injured persons were rushed to the local hospital. Relatives in Urbana and Defiance were notified of the serious condition of Mrs. Jarvis and the death of her companion and arrived here late last night.

GALION STUDENTS WILL HAVE BRIEF VACATION

Galion, Dec. 14—Students of Galion Public Schools will have only one week of vacation at the holiday season instead of two as is customary. Schools will be dismissed Dec. 23 and classes will be resumed Jan. 3. The change is made necessary because of the late starting date in September, when the opening was postponed on account of a threatened infantile paralysis epidemic.

POOR INVALID FINDS HEAVEN

Sheds Tears of Joy. A Very Touching Letter. Has Not Walked For Sixteen Years.



Mrs. G. Geerlings, (address upon request), wrote, in part, as follows: "I received the instrument and have used it seven times. It has already made a great change in my body. I was overjoyed I cried to think of your kindness in sending it to me, a poor invalid. I cannot thank you enough. For I have so much to be thankful for. God bless you.

"I can already sleep better, and now my hands abut half way, although some of the fingers are solid like bone. The pain is leaving my arms, which were heavy; and now are light. My skin looks different; it was like goose flesh. The pain in my back and side is also gone. I could hardly turn in bed; but now it is easy. My legs are coming down straighter, and my feet do not contract.

"I am so grateful to you. My Thanksgiving will be joyful, for I can now eat without suffering so much pain."

Glory be to God for this new discovery, the Sykodoner and what it will do for us. Can you blame Mrs. Geerlings because her heart glowed over what relief she found? Oh! were it possible to see that poor mother smile thru her tears, as she wrote that touching letter! Surely God was watching over her. For to make a mother smile, is to make the angels sing.

The Sykodoner is the most amazing healing device ever heard of. It will enable you to trade your sorrow for happiness. You can be well. No matter how serious your case, or how long standing it is, how many doctors and methods failed you, or what you have been told—don't give up hope, don't regard your case as incurable until you have investigated the Sykodoner way—a unique method which is helping thousands back to health. No drugs, serum, surgery, or rubbing. The Sykodoner succeeds because it gets right at the root of the trouble—removes "toxemia"—the universal cause of all disease. No shock or discomfort of any kind; no removal of clothing, even. The experience is delightful. A treatment takes but a few minutes.

Demonstration is free. Hours, 8 to 5 daily. Evenings and Sundays, by appointment, only. Calls made to home if necessary. Write for further information.

Marion Sykodoner Office, at the Jennings, 329 West Center St., where crowds of people call daily. It is a kind act by sending this to an afflicted friend.

Reaction in Industrials Wipes Out Price Gains

STEEL REPORTS ARE FAVORABLE

Price Movements on Exchange Become Confused; Volume of Trading Declines

Markets at a Glance

Railroad stocks, strong; industrial stock, firm; domestic bonds, firm; foreign bonds, fairly steady; call money, 4 per cent; grain, steady; copper, strong; oil, irregular; cotton, firm; rubber, reactionary; sugar, steady; pig iron, firm; foreign exchange, firm.

New York, Dec. 14—The reaction in industrial stocks today was not broad enough to wipe out any considerable portion of the gains scored in active trading since Friday. Though the speculative leaders declined on profit-taking and short-selling, new forward movements were inaugurated in other sections of the market, and the price movements of the day were somewhat confused.

The volume of trading after the first hour declined so far that the abbreviated form of reporting sales on the tape was abandoned, and prices printed in full. There was also a corresponding contraction in the number of separate stocks dealt in, many of those which had been "dusted off" in yesterday's broad market having been quietly put back on the shelves.

Steel Gaining

The most important business reports of the day came from the steel industry. Steel mills operations have increased about three per cent since last week, prices of important products advanced, and a more confident attitude displayed toward the nearby developments in this important industry. The Iron Age, in its weekly survey, reported that sheet makers had requested advances set up two weeks ago for first quarter delivery, thus insuring a better scale of prices. Output of finished steel has been stepped up slightly, in part by drawing on stocks of steel, according to this authority.

Though the gold exports are causing some uneasiness in the financial district, bankers persistently point out that no harm whatever can come from the shipment of the metal that was never considered a part of our gold reserves. There is now every assurance of abundant credit over the year-end, at comparatively low interest rates.

BELIEVE BODY THAT OF MILLIONAIRE'S SON

Greenville, Dec. 14—The body of a youth believed to be Charles B. Davis, son of a millionaire business man of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., was expected to be positively identified today.

The victim was killed Monday while attempting to board a freight train at the Cincinnati Northern depot here.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

Markets have taken on a Christmas aspect with the arrival of Christmas trees and holly. Receipts are small, however. Trees are selling at $1 and $1.50 and the holly at 45 cents a pound. Holly wreaths are selling at 35 cents. Vegetable prices were steady with dealers reporting heavier buying. A few dealers were advertising rabbits at 50 cents each. Cauliflower continues fairly plentiful and was being quoted today at from 25 to 35 cents. A few cucumbers were being carried by dealers today that were selling at 25 cents each. Dealers also were carrying a small stock of green peas that were selling slowly at 25 cents a pound. Hothouse tomatoes are supplying a limited demand at 35 cents a pound. Cabbage is not so plentiful and is selling at two cents a pound. Dealers report nuts selling readily. English walnuts are selling at 25 to 30 cents, Brazil nuts, 25 to 40 cents, and almonds at 30 to 50 cents a pound.

Fruit Prices Steady

Fruit prices were steady with oranges selling at a wide range of prices. Small Florida oranges are being offered at 14 for 25 cents, while navel oranges are selling at 95 cents. Dealers report the sale of cranberries light, the price is holding at 25 cents a bound. Apples continue plentiful and the prices range from $1.50 to $2.50 a bushel. California grapes are supplying a large demand at 15 cents a pound, large stocks of both Malagas and Tokays are being carried by dealers.

TODAY'S REVIEW OF YESTERDAY'S MARKET

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 14—General liquidation caused a severe break in wheat prices yesterday and the market closed at the low, with net losses of 2@2½c. The selling was based on an increase of 4,102,000 bushels in the world's available supply and an estimate of 125,000,000 bushels for the Australian crop.

Longs began liquidating freely in wheat soon after the opening. The lightness of buying power brought added weight in the form of bear pressure from the pit element. The general run of news had a bearish tone and the slump in corn was a factor in lowering wheat prices.

Foreign markets were lower. Liverpool closed ¼@½d lower and Buenos Aires was unchanged to ½c off at midsession. Winnipeg opened unchanged, but sold off, closing 1⅛@1⅜c lower.

News of the Argentine situation continued generally favorable, although some rains in the North were reported. Threshing returns from Australia indicate the crop will not be as short as anticipated and one estimate placed the yield at 125,000,000 bu., compared with the previous figure of 110,000,000. The Canadian visible supply showed an increase of 11,730,000 bu., which was responsible for some of the selling.

Corn Deliveries Heavy

In contrast to the selling in wheat the liquidation in corn was not the result of bearish news. Apparently longs were tired and the selling was attributed to the failure of the market to advance on the strong domestic and export situation. Resting orders were uncovered at 91c in the May, but they were not of substantial enough volume to stop the decline.

Heavy deliveries were a factor in the late decline. Morning deliveries were only 20,000 bu. but midday deliveries sent the day's total to 735,000 bu.

Oats showed inherent strength despite slight losses in sympathy with the downward movement in other grains. Fair commission house buying was apparent on the setbacks and most of the pressure was in the form of liquidation by longs.

Cash demand was good, comparatively, and local sales aggregated 75,000 bu. Deliveries on December contracts were heavier at 142,000 bu.

There was little pressure of any general sort in rye, and the declines were attributed to the heaviness in wheat. No further export sales were reported and there were deliveries of 10,000 bu. on December contracts. Cash rye was easier with the futures.

HYDRANT IS BROKEN OFF ON E. CENTER-ST

Motorist Drives Away Immediately After Car Crashes into Plug

A fire hydrant, located in front of the home of W. L. Warner, 520 E. Church-st, was wrecked, city water service in that vicinity shut off temporarily and a miniature flood created as the result of the hydrant being hit by an automobile shortly after midnight last night. Identity of the autoist, who drove away immediately after the crash, was not learned.

It is thought that the car skidded on the wet paving in passing another machine. Tire tracks showed that the car was traveling east, probably at a high rate of speed.

The hydrant was broken off next to the ground and for a half hour or more water spouted from the opening, flooding a large area on Church-st.

Workmen from the Marion Water Co. were summoned immediately to shut off the deluge.

A block of residences on Church-st was without city water service until shortly before noon today while a new hydrant was being installed.

This was the fourth hydrant either partly or totally wrecked by automobiles in the last few weeks, George Whysall, general manager of the Marion Water Co., stated today.

RED CROSS WILL MEET AT LIBRARY THURSDAY

Final arrangements have been completed for the annual meeting of Marion County Chapter of the Red Cross to be held in the auditorium of the City Library building Thursday night. Miss Mina Doughty, executive secretary, announced today.

Officers are to be elected for the coming year and plans for a program of work outlined.

The meeting is called for 7:30 o'clock and citizens generally are invited to attend, the secretary stated.

PLAN SUPPER

Circle Members Will Entertain Husbands Jan. 10

Mrs. A. J. Houghton and Mrs. S. M. Midgley were hostesses to members of the Circle of Service, King's Daughters yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Houghton, Gurley-av. Fourteen members responded to roll call with songs and stories of Christmas and Mrs. C. F. Davison conducted the devotional service which was based on the last chapter of Isaiah. During the business session Mrs. Thomas Baker and Mrs. Paul Hartle were enrolled as new members. It also was voted to assist financially in the nutrition work being carried on in the Glenwood and Silver Street Schools.

Mrs. Gordon Stair entertained with a story, "Christmas at Pleasantville," and Mrs. H. J. Lower contributed a paper "Life and Leadership of Moses." Refreshments were served during the social hour. Plans were made to entertain husbands of the members at a pot luck supper Jan. 10 at the home of Mrs. L. E. Meister, 151 Walnut-st, with Mrs. H. J. Lower and Mrs. C. C. Nash as assistant hostesses.

REELECT OFFICERS AT CLASS MEETING

The following officers were reelected at the meeting of members of the Loyal Ruth Class, Calvary Evangelical Sunday School last night at the home of Miss Marie Stull, St. James-st: Miss Wilma Click, president; Miss Margaret Lusch, vice president; Miss Marie Stull, recording secretary; Miss Florence Welland, corresponding secretary; Miss Medella Seiler, treasurer. Misses Gladys Nance and Rachel Radebaugh were enrolled as new members and Miss Gertrude Click was entertained as a guest. During the social hour a Christmas exchange was enjoyed and lunch served. The next meeting will be Jan. 9.

Only once in 1907 did the shade temperature in England rise to 75 degrees, and during the whole summer it never once touched 80—a cheerless record supplied, it is said, by no previous English summer.
